County files to stop Traco temporarily

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lake County has filed for an injunction against Traco, Inc. in an effort to put a stop to operations that have already begun at the chemical company's newly proposed site on Rte. 83 in Antioch.

Reports are that Traco had already started manufacturing in two small buildings on that site.

According to special Asst. States Atty. Larry Clark, a temporary restraining order has been sought against Traco's new operation in Antioch, following state and federal regulations.

The restraining order filed by the state's attorney's office calls on Traco officials to give all the proper information to the area fire department, state and county officials on chemicals, toxic waste, etc. to be involved in their manufacturing.

Traco has been operating at a site on the north end of the village, just one-and-one-half miles inside the village limits, near the new Antioch Manor Subdivision.

The chemical company had just put in its mixing machine when the restraining order was requested.

The original Traco plant in North Chicago, exploded last June and was totally destroyed, leaving three employees dead. The explosion also destroyed seven businesses in the Coleman Complex and injured approximately 12 people.

Fire departments from all over Lake County fought the blaze and traffic in the area was at a standstill for hours.

The deaths of the three employees has been ruled accidental by a Lake County Coroner's jury but conflicting testimony from witnesses and experts involving a possible missing valve, chemical reactions and the build-up of escaping chemical gases has lead to no conclusions yet as to a definite cause or blame for the explosion.

The Village Board of Antioch had previously entered objections to Traco's moving into the village with the county, saying the board had reservations they would like more information on.

At Monday's board meeting the village board approved instructions to Village Atty. Ken Clark "to take whatever actions are necessary, up to and including court proceedings.

Methodist women plan bazaar

Jane Pedersen and Lucile Eberman are chairpersons of the Early Shoppers Bazaar to be held at the United Methodist Church of Antioch, 848 N. Main St. on Saturday, Oct. 15 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This bazaar features knitted and crocheted items, Christmas and other holidays home decorations, place mats, napkins, towels and many other useful and decorative things all made by the ladies of the church.

A bakery section will offer homemade candies, preserves and other goodies. Many bargains can be found at the White Elephant sale and one may be lucky enough to win a beautiful quilt made by the Naomi Circle.

Louella Anderson and her committee will serve a mouth watering luncheon of beef ragout, salad, rolls and cake. Cost of the lunch is $4 for adults and $2 for children under six. This luncheon has become a "family affair" for many in the community.

Chamber sets fall meeting

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce is planning its fall quarterly meeting to start at 4:30 p.m., running approximately to 9 p.m., on Wednesday, Oct. 19, at the First National Bank of Antioch.

It is expected that plans will be gotten underway for Santa's Castle and the Antioch Christmas program. The Chamber is already seeking volunteers to work on both.

The Chamber has finished its map of Antioch project and the map should be available very soon.

The Chamber office has also started to keep a log on information that people seek from the Chamber.

This summer, people wanted to know about beaches, sailing lessons, boat and jet ski rentals, cabins resorts and motels, Blarney Island and the RV, Boat and Auto Show.

There were also requests for information about the Arts and Crafts Show, the map, Maxwell St. Days, recycling of cans, realtors and village activities, Share Food, schools, apartments and newspapers in the area.

Lakeland COUNTY NEWS

Traco stopped cold

ANTIOCH—Traco Inc., the North Chicago chemical manufacturer burned out of its North Chicago location last June, has encountered problems moving its operations to a new location on Rte. 83 near the new Antioch Manor Subdivision. An injunction to stop operations at two buildings has been filed by Lake County. It asks the company to provide area fire departments and county authorities with details about all chemicals, toxic waste and hazards at the location. Last June's fire and explosion killed three people, injured 12 and destroyed seven adjoining businesses.

New industry park

WAUCONDA—Village trustees voted unanimously this week to annex the Hallberg and Davis farms on the northeast side consisting of 70 acres for an industrial park planned by Holtgren-Berger Hydra Corp. Fred Holtgren and Dale Berger were fined $2,500 last summer by Lake County for the wholesale cutting of trees on the property. The annexation, plans for industrial park and cutting of trees were bitterly opposed by neighboring non-residents of Wauconda.

Plan big complex

LAKE ZURICH—A public hearing was scheduled earlier this week on the 25-acre Clover Hill Square, a complex consisting of a 36-store shopping center, four-story-121 room hotel, 70 townhouses and parking for more than 500 cars. The developers want 10 acres in the village rezoned to B-2 commercial and 17 acres annexed with the same classification. It is located on Rte. 12 between Clover Ln. and Miller Rd.

Playing hardball

LAKE VILLA—Trustees admit they are once again playing hardball with Thomas Follensbee, developer of a 36-unit luxury apartment complex on the southwest shore of Deep Lake. Temporary occupancy permits for 12 units in the last of three buildings in the complex were denied in two meetings last week until a $10,000 cash bond is posted to assure completion of some 13 "punch list" items. Permanent occupancy permits will not be issued for the other two buildings until the bond is posted and corrections are made. As of midweek the bond had not been posted.

Mobilehome owners

WAUKEGAN --- The Northeast Lake County Mobilehomeowners Assn. will be meeting at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 9 at the Community Room at Lakehurst Mall. Guests will be Sen. Adeline Geokaris, Warren Twp. Supv. Bob Depke, Herb Klimer and Milt Staben. All mobilehomeowners in Lake County are welcome.

Name Stricker

GRAYSLAKE --- Grayslake Village Board members have approved the appointment of Sue Stricker to the Grayslake Plan Commission. Stricker, a Grayslake resident for one year, said she favors controlled growth. She replaces Rodney Rockenbach, who resigned.

Cancer fair has
M*A*S*H theme

American International Hospital in Zion will hold a cancer awareness fair with a popular theme on Saturday, Oct. 8, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. It will be in Shiloh Park across from the hospital located on Shiloh Blvd. at Emmaus Ave.

The fair will have a M*A*S*H theme based on the popular film and television series. Army tents will be arranged in a compound and personnel will be dressed in camouflage fatigues and army uniforms.

Army vehicles will fill the compound while '50s era music plays in the background.

M*A*S*H look alikes Hawkeye,

Trapper John, Radar and Hot Lips will be available to pose for photographs.

Everyone is drafted to attend the fair, the sponsors say. Physicians specializing in cancer care as well as nurses, lab technicians and dieticians will be available to answer cancer-related questions.

There will be cancer-screening tests, self-examination instructions, blood tests to indicate cancer risk, computerized dietary analysis and cooking demonstrations to demonstrate the best way to prepare meals for the entire family.

Free literature, recipes and other giveaways will be available. There also will be activities for children.

Scout Troop will serve spaghetti

Mark calendars for Antioch's Boys Scouts of America Troop 92 28th annual "All You Can Eat" Spaghetti Dinner on Sunday, Oct. 16. The "all you can eat" dinner will be held at the Moose Hall located at 884 N. Main St. in Antioch.

The dinner includes spaghetti with meatballs, coleslaw, bread and butter, cake and beverage. The Scouts will be serving between noon and 7 p.m. but the best time is between noon and 4:30 p.m.

Donation is $3.50 per person with children under six eating free. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from any Scout. Carry-out service will be provided but patrons are asked to bring their own containers.

In addition to enjoying a delicious dinner, patrons will be eligible to win door prizes with their dinner ticket stubs. Also, there will be a main drawing at 7 p.m.

Patrons need not be present to win any of the many prizes which have been donated by area merchants.

Proceeds from the dinner are used to finance many of the troop's activities including campouts and field trips. Spaghetti Dinner Chairman Harold Clark will be assisted by Chief Chef Bernie Dost and House Chairman Bill Goetzelman. Troop 92 is sponsored by Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525.

Millburn's new classrooms, impress parents

Millburn Elementary School, in cooperation with its Parent-Teachers Organization, showed off its new classrooms and library to more than 300 parents at an open house last week.

"Everybody was pleased. People were impressed with the airiness and with the colors. The library was a big hit," Millburn School Supt. Lee Smithey said.

Librarian Carolyn Pittman of Lindenhurst showed off the brand new library to all. Pittman said the students have adjusted well to their new surroundings, which used to be the gym, kitchen and stage areas.

Six renovated classrooms were available for parent inspection. Fourth grade teacher Joanne Rathunde's classroom door had a drawing of the Woodstock character saying "Our new school is cool".

Millburn district voters approved $1.8 million in bonds for the renovation and construction work outside for the new gym last November. Smithey said a more formal dedication will be held in December or January.

Retired Millburn teachers Alice Anderson and Margaret Lahey, who started as teachers at the Wadsworth school visited their old classrooms. They came to the district before the present school was built in 1961.

"It was an awfully nice place to teach in," Lahey said.

Both spent more than 20 years at the kindergarten through eighth grade Millburn School before retiring in the mid-1970's. The school gives an award to students in their name each year.

Also at Millburn, the school district has been named as a pilot school for the Developmental Educational Program sponsored by the American Assn. of School Administrators.

"It will bring the rest of the world to our doorstep," Smithey said.

The program will focus on integration and cross-curricular study. For example, a unit on Korea can feature an essay contest on the country and its economics. Another focus of the program will show countries' interdependency of each other.

"The impact of the program can be nationwide," Smithey said.

Smithey explained he will be learning more about the implementation of the program when AASA representatives from Virginia visit the school.

In other related matters, the board elected Jeff Zaloudek as the board's representative to the Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL) board. Principal Gary Cybul gave the board a report on the successful opening of school.

Millburn has set up a memorial fund in honor of Susan B. Paparigaian, a deceased Millburn Board of Education member. Proceeds of the fund will be used to purchase library materials as specified by the fund. Contributions should be sent to the Millburn School Dist. Contributors should designate all contributions for this fund.

Immunization

The Lake County health Dept. offers free immunization clinics for Lake County children at St. Peter's Church hall, 557 Lake St., Antioch on Oct. 19 from 9 to 11 a.m. No appointment is necessary.

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from the school nurse, it should also be brought to the session.

For further information call Lake County Health Dept. at (312)360-6761.

ACHS Back to School on Oct. 11

Parents are invited to the "Back to School" night at Antioch Community High School which is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 11.

There will be a short program in the Commons area beginning at 7:30 p.m. followed by an opportunity for parent's to follow their son or daughter's class schedule. Refreshments will be served in the Commons following the 10th period class.

This is an excellent opportunity for parents to meet their child's teacher, get acquainted with some of the course expectations, and find out how to maintain contact with the teacher.

Dinners draw $3,000

County offers screening

The Lake County Health Dept. offers blood pressure testing for adults at no charge to Lake County residents. Testing will be held at the Antioch Public Library, 757 Main St., on Wednesday, Oct. 12 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Individuals will be screened for high blood pressure and those with elevated blood pressure will be referred to a physician for medical evaluation.

Instruction for diet, medications and other aspects of controlling blood pressure will be offered to persons referred by their physicians.

The risk of stroke, heart attack and kidney failure is greatly reduced when an individual's high blood pressure is controlled. For further information call (312)360-6716.

Leitch will speak at Free Church

Scottish evangelist Ian Leitch is the guest speaker at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church for a discipleship emphasis conference with the theme "Sharing The Faith," Oct. 9-11.

Leitch was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. Ian began his ministry as soloist with a musical group that toured Europe where it is estimated some 7,000 became Christians in response to their ministry.

Following study at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Leitch returned to Scotland. Traveling extensively through Europe and the U.S. Leitch is in demand for youth conferences, Bible conferences and evangelistic campaigns. His personality and unique style appeals to all ages. Leitch is excited about the love of God and warmly shares the good news with effectiveness.

The public is invited to all the services, Sunday at 8:15 and 10:45 and 6. Monday and Tuesday at 7.

Antioch buzzes with school, theater action

by Carolyn Hammond
(312) 395-6081

Well, we get another three-day weekend to celebrate our hemisphere's discovery and the Chicago Bears. This is the second such weekend since school started that we can get away from it all. Fat Chance! Oh well, another day off of school ain't bad say the kids. Back to the present in Antioch. . . This weekend saw more of:

"Man of La Mancha!" PM&L Theatre's opening show of its 28th season is more than half-way through its run. There are only two more performances of Don Quixote's impossible dream. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for both Friday, Oct. 7 and Saturday, Oct. 8. Don't miss this wonderful show! Get your reservations now by calling the ticket line at (312) 395-3055.

Back to School Night will be held 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 11 at Antioch High School, jointly sponsored by the board of education and the PTC. Parents! Here's your chance to meet those teachers that your child is either raving or complaining about or to meet the counselors. Relive your school days by attending your child's classes. Be there!

Antioch Upper Grade School parents! Here's your chance to meet the principal in a Parent/Principal Coffee 10 a.m., Thursday, Oct. 13. Parents will meet with Bill Herbst in a small group to gain more information regarding the AUGS educational program. Call the school office for an appointment before Oct. 11; group size will be limited.

The Antioch Junior Woman's Club will open its new club year with a dinner/program Thursday, Oct. 13 at the Antioch Golf Club Restaurant. For more information about the group you may call: (312) 395-9461 or (312) 395-6455.

Also on Thursday, Oct. 13 the ACHS fine arts dept. presents its annual Fall Choral Concert at 7:30 p.m. You want a special evening out at a nominal fee; come and hear the local home-grown talent we have in this area. They're great! Tickets can be purchased at the door.

Soon on the horizon is ACHS Homecoming 1988 to be held the weekend of Oct. 19. Mark that week on your calendar and plan to yards on six carries. The whole defensive line kept the game going. Kudos to Brian Bruns, Mike Gedville, Tom Marks, Walt Martens, Davy Murphy, Justin Ponce, and Deder Simek.

Antioch Raiders took on Winnetka and emerged victorious with a 6-0 win. Defensive linesman Eric Jahneke was singled out for 16 tackles made-one every other play. "Outstanding," said his coach Chuck Grasser. Other outstanding players in this physical game were: cornerback Scott Grasser, quarterback Cliff More whose passing was effective, and fullback Brian Gribar who piled up a lot of running yardage.

"We had a great game," said Antioch Junior Lightweight

Back to the present again. In Antioch Viking Football action: It was Antioch Eagles 6, Lake Zurich 7 in a close hard-fought game that saw some hard physical action. Scoring for the Eagles was tailback Jay Sanders with a 48 yard run.

In an outstanding defensive game Antioch Seahawks beat Mundelein 6-0. In the last two minutes of play a 25 yard pass from quarterback Bobby Farina to end John Smith was stopped on the one foot line.

The Raiders then scored on a QB sneak. A prior interception by cornerback Matt Shoemaker stopped a Mundelein offensive. Outstanding for the offense was halfback Kevin Eckenstahler who gained 33

Coach Bob Malson. "Unfortunately, the score doesn't show it." Malson's team lost 12-6 to Highland Park in its second overtime game, actually double overtime, this season. It was a very even game with only three punts total in the game. Antioch scored after a key interception by defensive back Jim Lubkamen with halfback Ricky Johnson scoring on a 25 yard run.

Antioch Senior Heavyweights lost 42-6. Outstanding in the losing effort were defensive guard Mark Salemm, a sixth grader playing heavyweight ball and Mike Milazzo, offensive flanker and defensive safety.

Antioch to end losses, Mundelein's playoff chances

They don't give out awards for 1-4 football teams, but if they did, the Antioch Sequoits and Coach Del Pechauer would top the list.

The Sequoits are coming off yet another close-but-no-cigar week in a 13-6 loss to Zion-Benton last week. The Sequoits, in each of their four losses, have lost by less than a touchdown.

So it will be Mundelein that the Sequoits will hope to take out their month of frustration on when the two teams tangle at Mustang Stadium Oct. 8. Game time in Mundelein is 2 p.m.

"We have to keep trying. Something has to break," the rookie coach Pechauer said of his team's fortune of late.

If there is any consolation in the loss, Antioch can point to the fact that when quarterback Rick Beattie completed nine of 25 passes for 96 yards. But Zion shutdown the Sequoits ground game. In addition to the fumble, the Sequoits managed just 22 yards against Zion on the ground.

In Mundelein, the Sequoits will be facing a team which is in the running for a playoff spot with a 3-2 record. The Mustangs upended Niles North 14-6 last week.

"Basically, we dominated the first half and then it started to rain in the second half and we slowed it down," Mundelein Coach Gary Heifner said.

Mundelein's running game worked well in the first two quarters, according to Heifner. "We were five-yarding them to death," Heifner said.

Quarterback John Bagley scored both Mustang touchdowns, from one and four yards out to cap drives.

Although the Zec-Becs were without starting QB Gary Scott, the Sequoits did manage to dominate - except for two plays.

Two Antioch turnovers led to both scores by the visitors. Zion's backup QB Dave Matson found George Lambert open from 19 yards out in the second quarter for a 7-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Armando Alexander rambled 35 yards after picking up an Antioch fumble. The extra point failed for a 13-0 Zec-Bee lead.

Seeking more blockers

Antioch spikers seek consistency final week

With the North Suburban Conference tournament looming only two weeks away, the Antioch volleyball team will be seeking one aspect in the final few regular season matches.

"We need consistency. We've been improving steadily throughout this year," Antioch volleyball Coach Carla Thompson said.

The Sequoits will travel to Crystal Lake South for a non-conference match against the Gators, a sectional qualifier last year on Oct. 10 before resuming North Suburban Conference play Oct. 12 by hosting Zion-Benton. Then its only the conference finale at home against Warren Oct. 14 before the NSC meet at Lake Forest the next weekend.

The Sequoits have been holding their own in the NSC, splitting six matches.

In a match that was more a battle of survival than anything else, the team notched win No. 3 of the NSC season with a 15-6, 7-15, 16-14 win over North Chicago.

The turning point for Antioch in the third and deciding game came when North Chicago's Tanya Broyles was injured with the visiting Warhawks ahead 8-4. The Warhawks only brought six players to the match and had to play the rest of the way with five.

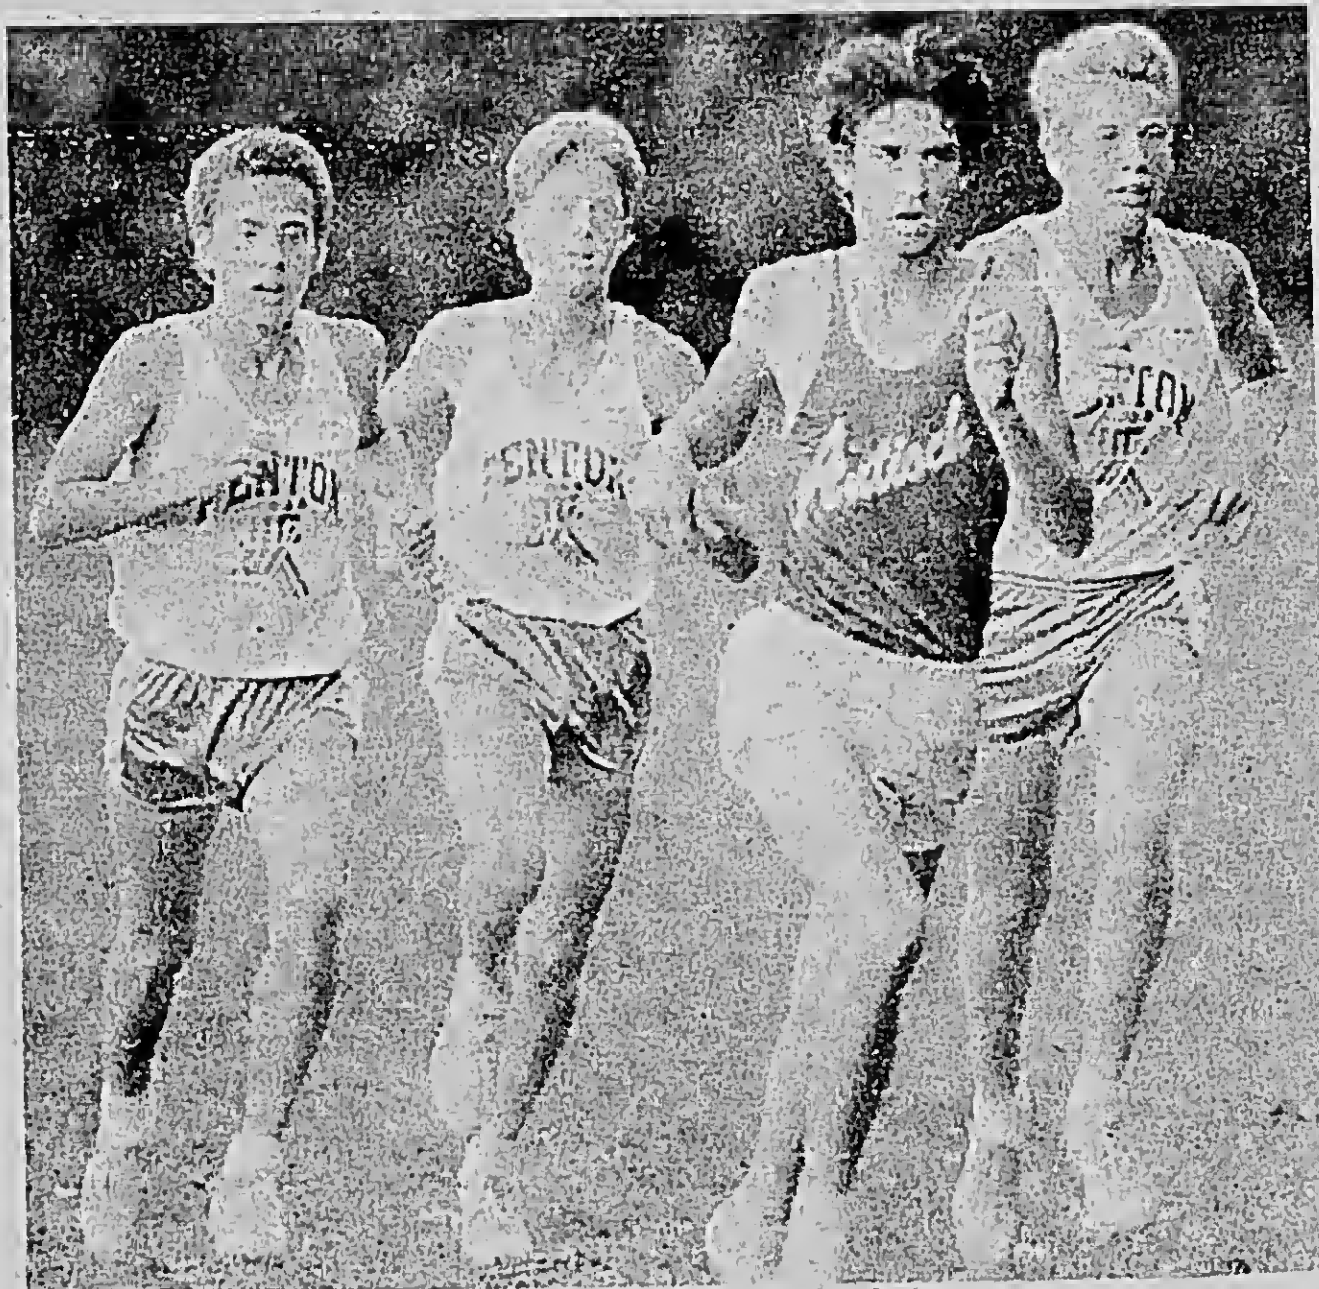

Junior Jenny Blackmen led the Sequoits against North Chicago with 18-for-18 in the good serves department with nine points. Elaine Johnson, a junior, had 15 for 16 in serving for 10 points. Terry Farnsworth led the spiking attack with 20 for 21.

The Sequoits are fielding a young team this season with two sophs starting. In addition to Farnsworth, Heide Schmike also starts for Antioch.

Elsewhere in the NSC, in a much-heard battle, Libertyville downed Stevenson to break the Patriots' 20 game win streak.

Mundelein, meanwhile, increased its record to 2-4 in the league with a tough three-game win over Warren. The Mustangs won the opener 15-11, then lost the second game 19-17 before winning the third 15-7.

Komar takes QB spot

For the first time this year, Richmond-Burton Coach J. Randy Hofman had a question mark going into a contest.

How would the Rockets respond without starting quarterback Roger Hauri, who dislocated a shoulder the week before.

"Don't worry, be happy, coach," seemed to be the Rockets' response as they clubbed Genoa-Kingston 30-14 in a Big Eight Conference game. The win against the highly regarded Cogs keeps R-B, the top-rated Class 2A team in the state earlier this year, unbeaten at 5-0 and kept pace with its main challenger, Harvard, who is also 5-0, 3-0.

The Rockets' second team may get more playing time than the first when R-B travels to Huntley to face the Redskins in a BEC game Oct. 7. The Redskins fielded just 13 players in a 42-0 loss to Harvard last week and have won one game in two years. Last year, Huntley had to forfeit some of its games because it did not have enough players.

"It's hard to plan on a blowout. We thought we'd have one against Burlington Central and St. Mary's but we looked at the score and it was 13-0 at halftime and we were in a ballgame. Some teams may be sky-high for you and make a few plays to create a game," Hofman said.

While sophomore quarterback Chad Komar calling the plays, Chris

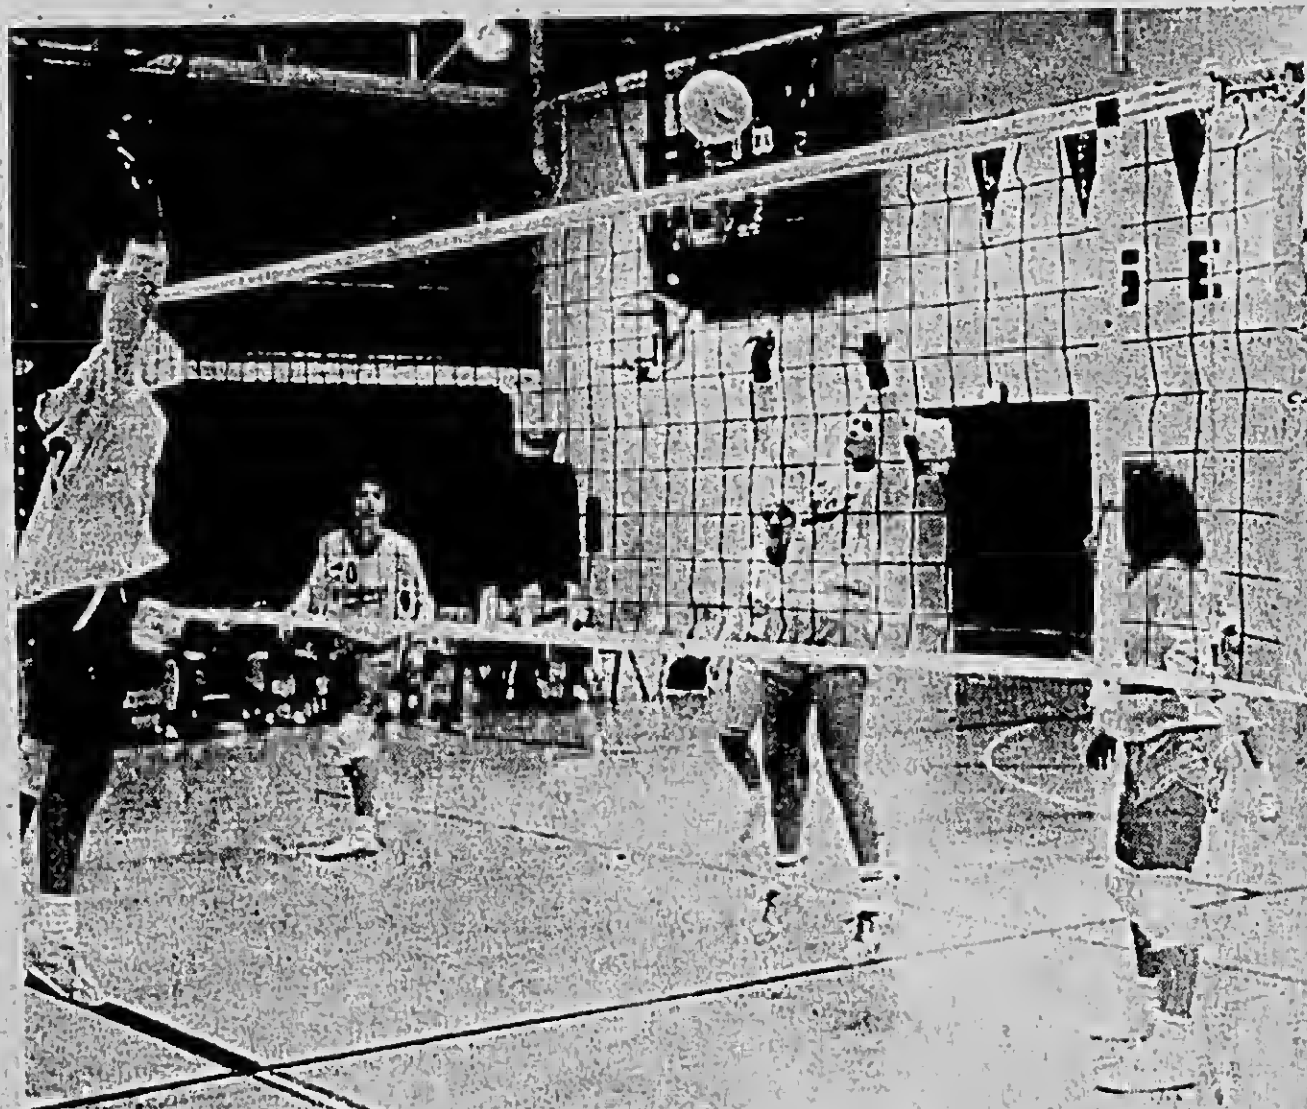

Steadman responded to the challenge by scoring three more touchdowns. Steadman scored on runs of eight and one yard in the first half and a 45 yard scamper in the fourth quarter which completed the scoring.

"Chad did a nice job in the second half," Hofman said.

Steadman, who finished with 130 yards, started the scoring with the game less than four minutes old when he scored from eight yards out in the first quarter. The two-point conversion try failed.

He scored again late in the third quarter from one yard out for a 12-0 Richmond lead at halftime.

Richmond made it 18-0 in the third quarter when Jon Urban caught a pass from Komar.

Recycling not an end all

One of the things the study of how to dispose of solid wastes has done is focus attention on the potential of recycling. That has its good and bad side. It is good that recycling is being appreciated. It is bad that some segments of the public, particularly strict environmentalists, are basing too much reliance on recycling as the way to deal with the impending solid waste disposal crisis.

After obtaining input at a public hearing, members of the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency are making their final analysis in preparation for selecting from three waste system alternatives.

An all-out effort for recycling can reduce the residential, commercial and industrial waste stream by approximately 25 percent. Obviously, this leaves a huge quantity of waste. Incineration is seen as the most likely method of dealing with the remaining waste with landfilling being used only to dispose of ash and residues. As the Waste Planning Agency discovered, incineration is expensive, but it is the ultimate answer. Modern technology is doing a good job handling environmental considerations. The big problem with incineration, in our viewpoint, is siting. Will neighbors be less offended by an incinerator than a landfill?

Agency members representing every municipality in the county have done an excellent job compiling the alternatives. Now that the facts have been assembled, they have the opportunity of playing Soloman. The job agency members have done largely will go unthanked, but they have provided a yeoman service. We have a hunch they will include recycling as part of their recommendation, but we hope recycling fans won't be turned off if their favorite method is only part of the solution.

Minimal fire codes

The list of municipalities with building codes requiring two-hour fire resistance rated construction separation walls and floor-ceiling assemblies between dwelling units in multi-family buildings is surprisingly small.

According to an industry group made up of suppliers and contractors using non-combustible materials, only four Lake County communities have adopted the two-hour code--Grayslake, Highwood, Lake Zurich and Zion.

The Multifamily Construction Advisory Committee of Illinois lists 45 communities having what the organization regards as upgraded building codes. Many of the communities with more stringent multi-family building codes require masonry and precast hollow core plank construction.

When non-combustible materials have been used, most multi-family building fires can be confined to the unit of origin with little or no damage to adjacent dwelling units.

There is considerable confusion about what is ideal from a fire safety viewpoint. Minimal codes typically require drywall construction to have a two-hour rating, which is different than the industry committee advocates. "It's like comparing apples and oranges," one building inspector explained.

Opinions on what constitutes safety, of course, can vary widely. The impact of stringent codes on building costs is a factor, too, leading to wonderment whether cost is the primary consideration.

Fall sales welcome

When the weather is hot--really hot--business cools off. Illinois retailers reported a slight decline in August sales, posting a 1.92 percent drop over the same month a year ago.

Locally, business was off all summer at sit-down restaurants. There was an immediate turn-around for family-type dining establishments when temperatures cooled during mid-September. When it's hot all day, people don't care about eating. They just want to sit in front of an air conditioner and sip something cool, a restaurateur opined.

Tax collectors relished the Bloomingdale's opening in Chicago as a big spark to retailing. Bloomie's first weekend sales exceeded $2 million. With a general economy running in high gear, a fourth-quarter rally for retailers is forecast. David F. Vite, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Assn., reported analysts are predicting that consumers will be in a buying mood.

Rte. 53 greasing offers lesson in road building

by BILL SCHROEDER

Right now, this very minute, the lesson is being learned how highways get built in Illinois. When people in the right places want highways, they get built. It's that simple.

In the case of Rte. 53, the Highway of the Future that has been languishing on the drawing boards for 25 years, one of the people who wants to see Rte. 53 extended northward into the heart of Lake County is Gov. James "Big Jim" Thompson.

How else can the "discovery" of $3.5 million in highway coffers for land acquisition for the Rte. 176 interchange be explained when Illinois Dept. of Transportation engineers have been crying poor mouth for years. Big Jim pressed the button and spread the word.

Think this is a joke? Ralph Wehner,

Dist. 1 IDOT chief, had to be informed that the land purchase was in IDOT's 1989 budget. This is not meant as a condemnation of the hard-working and capable Wehner. The Rte. 53 greenlight has all the ear marks of a Springfield grease job. Wehner's office is in Elgin.

Now that the whole smelly mess is out in the open, watch how fast funding will be "found" to move the superhighway north of Lake-Cook Rd. Environmentalists and open space advocates are stunned over how fast the project got on track after being mothballed for so many years. As we mentioned, school is in session on how major highways are built in Illinois. Attention, class. Rte. 53 is the subject of our lesson today!

Letter To The Editor

Welcome to Lake County
Editor:

We moved here last year from Matteson, which is on the far southwest side of Chicago. We had sold our 4 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath, 10-room house. Our last Cook County tax bill was about the same as the Lake County tax on our new 2 bedroom, 2 bath-4 room condominium at Harbour Club in Wauconda, which we purchased in July of 1987.

The relative higher Lake County tax was acceptable, for we dearly "loved" this area.

Subsequently, we learned that this condo had a disproportionately higher assessed value; that many of the single homes in Wauconda, which are larger and have a greater dollar value were assessed at a lower value...is that fair? Consequently our taxes which are automatically collected by The Great Northern Mortgage Company are being paid under protest.

Then came our first Lake County tax bill for 1987. Bingo! It was for a total tax increase of $243.70, largely due to School Dist. 18 increase. This 14.8 percent increase represented a problem for those of us who are retired and on a fixed income, as well for all residents.

However, that's not the end of the saga. This week we received a notice from the "Supervisor of Assessments" of Lake County, advising that the assessed value factor for all of Wauconda will be increased from 1.000 to 1.0835-an 8.35 percent increase! What a shock! We then learned that this arbitrary increase will apply to all of Lake County. How can this be justified?

Does the assessor really believe that all property in Lake County did, in fact, increase by 8.35 percent?

Also, it is evident if the taxing bodies maintain the same tax rate, all of Lake County tax payers will see an increase of 8.35 percent in their next Lake County tax bill.

Further, what has the assessor done to equalize the assessed value of all property in Lake County? This in itself could possibly eliminate the increased assessed value across the board. Assessments should be proportionately equal.

Hopefully, the taxing bodies will review their dollar requirements and take into consideration the assessed value increase and reduce their rate accordingly. I understand that Island Lake and Wauconda are taking another look at this and I trust other taxing bodies will follow suit.

Political attack

Editor:

Mike Graham's recent comment asking for the resignation of Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton as Chairman of Lake County Stormwater Management Agency because of filling in some wetlands is a typical reaction of Mike Graham where he postures himself as being above reproach and where he feels that all elected officials in Lake County (including judges) who may disagree with him, or who make a mistake, should be voted out of office.

Mike Graham's attacks on Mayor Welton are politically motivated and, like most Graham attacks, have no basis in fact. I have not spoken to Mayor Welton about the flood-plain problem on the property at the Cub Foods Store in Round Lake and he has not asked me to write this letter, but I am knowledgeable about Mayor Welton as a person and have worked closely with him on various problems in the last ten years. I find him to be a very conscientious, hard-working official who would in no way do anything which to the best of his knowledge might be considered wrong.

From what I read in newspapers, Mayor Welton apologized for the Round Lake incident and labeled it a mistake. We all make mistakes, except Mike Graham. Mike did not make a mistake when he drove a county-owned vehicle into the DesPlaines River on non-county business, and he did not offer to resign from the Lake County Forest Preserve Commission because of this.

There was a report that Gurnee Mayor Welton "is currently weathering calls for him to step down as Chairman of the Lake County Stormwater Drainage Management Agency." I know of no other calls except the politically motivated attacks of Mr. Graham and Mr. Reindl.

Blacks denied

Editor:

As a wife of a veteran, and a friend of a veteran who just recently completed a master's at Loyola in social work, I would like to know why the V.A. Medical Center in North Chicago does not employ any black social workers other than the chief of social work service? The chief does not work directly with patients. However, she does do the hiring. Why, then, is it that several qualified black candidates from this area have applied and were totally denied the opportunity to fill the position.

Recycling the answer

Editor:

Finally the problem of waste disposal in Lake County is being confronted. The article by Richard Whittington in the Sept. 23 issue seems to make the solution of using landfills better than it really is. Lake County is growing quickly, and there is no room for landfills. As was stated in the article, a landfill in this area has a life expectancy of only six years. The disposable waste needs a long-term solution, not a short one.

Recycling is the most beneficial of all possible solutions. As it stands, at least two-thirds of our waste can be recycled (Continued on Page 11)

Political handshakes

Political reception in honor of state Rep. Robert W. Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist., standing center in dark suit, at Midlane County Club drew an overflow crowd of most Republican dignitaries. Shaking hand of the three-term state representative, who is also House minority whip, is Mayor Robert Sabonjian of Waukegan. Standing between the two is Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell and, at right, is Mayor William Dam of Fox Lake.

without any major changes in our lifestyles. But we aren't recycling anywhere near this number. Our resources are not inexhaustible, as we seem to think they are. Recycling would put a curb on the use of raw materials and thus lessen the terrible burden we have put on our environment. There are many more advantages of recycling, and countries such as Sweden and Egypt are benefitting from it.

The easiest way to make a move toward the habit of recycling is to make it mandatory by law. We can't keep pushing this problem off on other generations, hoping it will go away. We must start to recycle and make it the law.

Bus service needed

Editor:

There is a real need for bus service for seniors and handicapped people in Mundelein. There are a lot of people who can't see well enough to drive, or are handicapped or don't own cars. A lot of people are just too old to drive any more.

They can't pass the driver's test.

There needs are simple, transportation for visiting the senior center, doctor or buying groceries. A senior citizen bus would solve the problems of older residents who are otherwise dependent on family, friends and neighbors.

For two years, I have been trying to convince people at PACE of the need in Mundelein.

A "Traveling Survey" has been developed that asks residents when they need to ride a bus, where they would be headed, where they would like to be picked up, the time of day and similar details. The purpose of the survey is to help PACE establish a schedule that would best meet the needs of the users.

Surveys are available at the Village Hall, 440 E. Hawley St., and at Lincoln Senior Center, 200 W. Maple Ave. Seniors, physically disabled people and their families are asked to obtain forms, fill them out and return them. Without this valuable information, the bus service will not become a reality.

Politically speaking....

by JOSEPH SOULAK

We've all heard about double-dippers, which could be ice cream. Now, there is a triple dipper, and that isn't something to eat. So says Bob "Guess" Gesiakowski of Antioch, Democratic candidate for the state senate in the 31st Dist.

He accuses the Republican holder of that office, Adeline Geo-Karis, of enjoying more than ice cream. Gesiakowski said she may be the only person in U.S. history to derive income from three branches of government. "She is a walking, talking, breathing conflict of interest," the candidate said.

First, she gets paid as state senator where she represents the legislative branch of government, the angry Democrat says. As mayor of Zion, for which she also gets paid, she represents the executive branch of government. Then, as the paid village attorney for Vernon Hills, she represents the judicial branch.

"The framers of our constitution designed checks and balances to separate the three branches of government," the Democrat said. "It was never intended to serve in all three branches at once."

Gesiakowski calls for Geo-Karis to resign as state senator and remove her name from the November ballot. He is now trying to "guess" whether she will do exactly that.

It's almost like Daniel being in the proverbial lions den. That's the race for County Board member in Dist. 2 of Waukegan and Shields townships.

It is Democratic stronghold where Republican Ray Vukovich is trying to get elected. "My campaign asks people to look beyond party lines," the vice president of Swank Insurance Co. says. No neophyte to politics, he has been a Waukegan Twp. trustee for 3-1/2 years as the only GOP candidate to be elected out of eight four years ago and was a Waukegan school board member for two years.

Vukovich didn't run for re-election to the school board. "Six weeks after my wife, Pat, and I were married she went on strike," he said of her teaching job at Glen Flora for more than one dozen years. The teachers were out for 10 days. Vukovich didn't think his elective post was compatible with his wife's paid one.

Oct. 6, 7, 8, 9 will be the final performances for PM&L's "Man of La Mancha". Director Mark Badtke selected a fine cast to unfold the adventures of Don Quixote.

Don Quixote and sidekick Sancho are portrayed by Ken Sheske and Fran Jansta, Aldonza by Wanda Sheaffer. The Duke and Antonia are played by Keith Golwitzer and Tracy Kiedler.

The supporting cast is as follows: Larry Bersie (Pedro), Dolores Finley

various roles.

Showtimes are 8 p.m., Oct. 9 being a 2:30 matinee. For reservations, call (312) 395-3055. Theatre located at 877 Main St., Antioch.

Bergin to open new office

American International Hospital, Zion, announces that Jeffrey K. Bergin, BS, DC, who received his chiropractic training at Logan College in St. Louis, will open his practice at North Point Medical/Dental Center on Oct. 3.

Health fair

Annual health fair and blood drive of the Lake Villa Twp. Rescue Squad will be Sunday, Oct. 23, from noon to 4 p.m. at the station on Grand Ave. between Lindenhurst and Lake Villa.

Following an independent practice of five years in Mundelein, Bergin is looking forward to becoming a part of the clinic.

"We don't treat everything," Bergin said, "but we are the answer to a lot of problems." Bergin's patients will be able to visit other physicians in the facility to receive necessary x-rays or tests. "We can do any kind of testing the patient needs," he said, "x-rays, lab, a biochemical analysis to determine what vitamins to prescribe. If the patient needs a referral, it will be right there at North Point."

Bergin will offer complimentary spinal examinations every Wednesday. "I will do an exam of the spine, see if the patient has a chiropractic problem and can suggest what kind of follow-up is needed."

Office hours are 1 to 8 p.m., Mondays; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; and 9 a.m. to noon, Saturdays. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call (312) 872-1615.

Incinerating a costly alternative

by DICK WHITTINGTON

Landfilling today's waste is still the most economical method of disposal. Recycling is next, followed by composting, and the most expensive, incineration.

Today's waste-to-energy plants are generally financed by revenue bonds, and the income is derived from the sale of electricity and the tipping fees from the refuse. The income should be sufficient to retire the bonds and maintain the operating expenses.

Although the tipping fees for a mass burn facility are significantly higher, there are some advantages. The ask represents only 5 to 10 percent of the furnace feed and requires less landfill space. The co-generation of electricity will illuminate the burning of fossil fuels to generate an equal amount of electricity, thus saving our natural resources.

Also, does not the burning of coal and oil create acid rain and air pollution? It's true, as recently stated by a Mundelein trustee, that Sweden placed a two-year moratorium on incineration construction. But, this was to investigate potential problems with stack emissions, and when the research concluded that there were no problems the ban was lifted about one year ago.

Modern waste-to-energy facilities have stoker grate systems which tumble the refuse during the burning process to ensure complete combustion. The system operates under a negative air pressure in which outside air is drawn through the refuse storage bin and is fed to the furnace. This prevents odor from escaping. The hot gasses heat the boiler then enter a scrubber designed to remove specific gasses and volatilized metals. The remaining gases are cooled with water and enter the baghouse, which acts as a huge vacuum cleaner and then exit by the stack. There is no visible emission from the stack.

Most mass burn incinerators are built as described above, with the differences being in the grate, scrubbers, spray injections and the baghouse.

Toxic chemicals generally fall into two categories, heavy metals and heterocyclic organic compounds (furans, dioxin, and di-benzo compounds). The accepted destruction disposal of heterocyclic compounds is incineration. (1,800 degrees for two seconds is sufficient, the furnaces operate at 2,000-2,400 degrees.)

It is true that some of these are produced in the burning process, but the formation and the quantity is not completely understood. However, we know exactly what is being emitted from the stack. Factories, automobiles, and your fireplace also produce these compounds.

The U.S. EPA at present has only guidelines for the quantity of stack emissions. The U.S. EPA is using the Marion County, Ore., waste-to-energy facility as a guide for establishing new standards. Some state EPAs do have emission limits.

The stack emission levels at the Marion County facility are: Dioxin 1.13 nanograms/cubic meter, furans 0.423 nanograms/cubic meter. A nanogram is one billionth of a gram.

The ash is usually landfilled separately. Ash hardens to almost a concrete consistency and is not as porous as landfilled garbage. Since the only liquid in an ash landfill comes from rainwater that percolates through and most heavy metals are in the oxide state, they are not water soluble.

There is no organic matter present to create acids, so the metallic compounds are not solubilized and the leachage is relatively clean. There has been no indication that dioxin and furan leach from ash. Marion County, Ore., is planning to use ash leachage to irrigate non-food crops.

A 300-ton/day waste-to-energy facility can generate 11 megawatts of electricity and save landfill space. Editor's note: Richard Whittington is director of environment and recycling at Village of Grayslake.

Group push CLC tax

Citizens for the College of Lake County has been formed to encourage public support for a college tax increase referendum in the Tuesday, Nov. 8, election.

An increase of 11 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is being sought—the first since the college was formed. Of this amount, 7 cents will go to the education fund and 4 cents for operations, building and maintenance.

Heading the newly-formed organization as chairman is Lloyd VanDeusen of Waukegan, retired 19th Judicial Circuit Court judge and chief judge for a brief period of time.

Serving with him are Lois Haines of Highland Park, secretary; Lee Cieslak of Grayslake, treasurer; and Florence Babusek of Antioch, public information.

Membership in the organization is $20 per individual, which will be used to support the referendum.

IN THE HEART OF DOWNTOWN

Crime Stoppers and the LCSO are seeking information on two residential burglaries occurring in the unincorporated area of Wadsworth. Both burglaries occurred during the daytime hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., with entry to both residences being made by forced entry to either the front door or rear sliding patio door.

Items taken in the burglaries included television sets, stereo equipment, microwaves, jewelry and clothing--including a leather jacket and several pieces of athletic warm-up suits.

Crime Stoppers and the Antioch Police Dept. are seeking information on a hit-and-run accident occurring on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 12:11 p.m. in the area of 1133 S. Main St., Antioch.

The offending vehicle was described as white in color, four-door Lincoln with a possible license plate of JC13.

Description of the driver was given as a male, white, 55-60 years old, with gray hair. Offending vehicle may have a broken windshield stemming from the accident.

Crime Stoppers and the LCSO are seeking information on a burglary at the Happyland Pet Center, 11432 W. Wadsworth Rd., Zion, between Sunday, Sept. 11, and Monday, Sept. 12. Someone entered the building by possibly tearing a screen located on a rear window on the north side of the building. Once inside, the offenders removed a gray steel safe measuring approximately 16-x20-x24-inches bearing the brand name of "Century". The safe was removed by going through the north side basement door.

If anyone has information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

If your information results in an arrest and indictment, you could be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000. Remember, Crime Stoppers wants your information, not your name.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER

A SKIN INFECTION

Many types of skin infections come to the attention of the podiatrist. One type is called ecthyma.

Ecthyma primarily affects the lower extremities, most often the backs of the feet and the shins. It may appear following a break in the skin, but the infection also develops in uninjured skin.

Cases of ecthyma range from moderate to severe. Lesions produced by the infection are deep, and vary from the size of a pea to much larger. Scratching the itchy area may spread the infection. Neglected, the lesions may leave scars or lead to complications.

Once the podiatrist diagnoses a case of ecthyma, it can be eliminated in a short time. Treatment includes antiseptic cleansing of the area, the application of antibiotic ointment and sometimes the use of an oral antibiotic as well.

Money can't buy brand love

When offered a choice between money or promotional items, which do consumers prefer?

Research surprisingly indicates that promotional items such as imprinted specialty advertising products and premium merchandise are a better alternative to money for stimulating consumers, according to Ken Buck, president of the Specialty Advertising Association of Chicago (SAAC).

To determine attitudes toward various promotional programs, Pace University New York, surveyed 180 consumers residing in the eastern United States. The study evaluated two promotional methods—those using money (rebates and instant cash) and those using promotional items.

An upper limit of three dollars was placed on the amount of money and the value of the promotional items offered. The imprinted promotional items were grouped into various categories, including writing instruments, imprinted clothing such as T-shirts, jackets and caps, glass and ceramics such as mugs, calendars, leather/vinyl products such as portfolios and carry-bags, calendars and housewares.

When offered a choice between money or the imprinted items at levels of one, two and three dollars, unexpected preferences among consumers emerged:

—The intrinsic value, or perceived personal worth of the items, exceeded their actual cost for 85 percent of the participants.

—When the amount of money offered exceeded the intrinsic value of the items by 20 to 30 percent, 85 percent of the respondents still preferred the promotional products.

—When the money offered exceeded the products' intrinsic value by 40 to 60 percent, 35 percent of the people still selected products.

—Finally, when the amount of money offered exceeded the intrinsic value of the items by 80 to 90 percent, nearly everyone took the money.

"For advertisers, these findings suggest that by using carefully selected imprinted promotional products, the perceived value received will exceed their cost," Buck said.

"For example, a promotional product with an actual cost of 69 cents and a perceived value of 90 cents will provide the advertiser 38 cents of promotional benefits of promotional items over money include a lower cost-per-message exposure, higher recall rates, greater brand loyalty and a preference by consumers," Buck said.

"Money offers none of these benefits. There is no promotional carry-over, little additional buyer loyalty is gained, and the program can be easily replicated by competition."

Retire with 4-cornered stability

by NICK BROWN

Inflation, slow growth, investments that don't perform, pension plan restrictions, lack of investable funds...

These are all reasons why you may not be able to retire and keep your current lifestyle.

The increased costs of college for your children, health care and living costs have eaten into that portion of many financial programs that were to provide for their retirement out of savings supplemented by social security and retirement plans.

Pension projections for many people will only be small portion of what they had planned. This is due to increasing restrictions on the benefits provided under conventional employer sponsored pensions plans, the lowering of the allowable deferral under 401Ks

This Way to Wealth

and lack of deductibility of IRA contributions.

What can be done? There are pension planning and retirement fund tactics that can be used to provide for a comfortable and worry free retirement.

The first step is to project what your retirement goals should be. Starting with your current monthly spendable income, you should project this at an assumed rate of inflation to your desired retirement age. Age 60 is becoming a more return, consistency of deposits, and multiple retirement sources.

Tax deferral can be achieved by participation in an employer-sponsored pension plan, profit sharing plan or a 401K as well as personal investment in tax deferred annuities and employer sponsored deferred compensation programs. You should immediately approach your employer or benefit counselor to investigate each of these options.

Investment return is important on a long-range basis where money is sheltered. In other words, re-

Retirement stability

The important thing is that substantial losses are not incurred in this tax deferred capital. Choose conservative return, consistency and return of principle over speculative gains in a tax deferred retirement plan. The return of your money when you get to retirement is more important than any one year's substantial gain.

Consistency of return is most important in a retirement program. Whether your retirement is 10, 20, 30 or 40 years away, the amount of retirement income you have will be determined in part by the average contribution to these programs and average annual after-tax return. The consistency of your deposits is very important and you should avoid any unstable investment.

Your total retirement income will be enhanced if you can use all the sources available. Social Security will be the base, if it still exists, at your retirement or if its payment to you is not reduced by some factor of your other retirement income.

You should participate in every employer sponsored retirement program available as well as personal investments in an IRA even though the deposit may not be deductible. The income will be deferred and the net result will be an increased retirement income for you.

Investments in zero coupon municipals, tax deferred annuities, Universal Life Insurance on which the cash accumulation is tax deferred as well as all cash real estate partnerships where the income is partially sheltered should be combined in a coherent program with the target being your desired interest inflation adjusted retirement income.

Retirement can be a comfortable and relaxed time of life. The graying of America and longer life spans will make retirement longer than ever before with the greatest proportion of Americans soon to be in the 50 plus age group. Plan for your retirement, be consistent in your deposits and use every opportunity to fund for this purpose and you will be able to enjoy an active, useful and exciting retirement period.

vited by writing to "This Way To Wealth" in care of the Lakeland Newspapers, 30 W. Whitney St., Grayslake, 60030 or to 2203B Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, 60015.

Personnel

Fran McBride

Lake Bluff resident Fran McBride posted sales in excess of $700,000 to lead the Libertyville office of First United/Raynor to a record August.

McBride has lived in Lake County for more than 35 years and has been associated with the company for five years. She's been a million plus producer every year. Her August production pushed her over the $2 million mark for 1988. Fran and her husband, Byron, live in the Knollwood area.

Other sales leaders for the month include Karen Fenton, Norv Rather, Charlene Brooks and Lois Haas, all local residents.

Cynthia Tobin

Cynthia Tobin of Ingleside completed the courses and passed the test set by the state's department of insurance to obtain her producer's license. Tobin has been an employee of the Grove Insurance office in Fox Lake for the last year as a customer service representative and computer consultant.

Pam Hideriotis

For the second month in a row, July and August, Pam Hideriotis has been the top lister and top salesperson in the Mundelein office of First United/Raynor.

Since the beginning of her real estate career, Hideriotis has been a consistent top producer. She holds the designation of CRC, RIS, a member of the public relations committee at the Lake County Board of Realtors, is a recipient of the Dozen National Sales Award and a member of the Peak Performance Club.

Hideriotis is a resident of Mundelein.

Patricia Webb

Libertyville resident Pat Webb lead the First United/Raynor Libertyville office in listings taken in August. Webb is a longtime Lake County resident. She was also second in sales in August and recently passes the $2 million mark for 1988 production.

Women bankers group serves educational need

Since 1921, the National Assn. of Bank Women (NABW) has aggressively represented the interests of women executives in the financial services industries, including banks, savings and loans, credit unions, insurance companies, mortgage companies, investment bankers and data processors.

No other organization serves their professional and educational needs, and in doing so serves as an extraordinary ally to individual institutions and the industry overall.

A full 40 percent of today's bank executives are women; 70 percent of the total bank workforce are women. Their skills are the single biggest resource of any financial institution.

NABW's Foundation now serves more than 17,000 bankers and their institutions annually.

The National Assn. of Bank Women is the educational partner for the woman prepared to compete.

NABW's 30,000 members working in financial institutions across the country, form a national network of expertise and ideas. The Association itself is organized for representativeness and strength, with local groups, state councils, regions, and a national board of directors, all cooperating to promote career advancement for today's woman financial executive.

The organization helps members learn more about the competition and industry trends as well as allowing them to exchange ideas on common issues and concerns at group meetings and state conferences. Management techniques through leadership roles at the local, state, regional or national level can be practiced.

Being a member of NABW allows today's female financial manager the opportunity to make contacts as well as increase her own personal visibility at all levels. She can increase her chances to sit on community, legislative, or corporate boards.

NABW prides itself on the ability to help women in the financial field learn and grow. Industry issues and opportunities are addressed in the Executive Financial Woman magazine and also at the NABW's national convention.

The organization invites members to plug into the legislative process at the local, state and national levels through public affairs activities.

The Lake County Chapter of NABW's next meeting is Thursday, Oct. 20 at the Green Bay Shipping Co. in Waukegan.

Rita Allieandro, NABW State Council President, will be the guest speaker. Ruth Richardt, Concerned Citizens for CLC will also discuss the tax referendum.

To make reservations or receive more membership information, contact Donna Roman, Great Northern Savings Bank, (312) 566-5600 or Jill Gross, First State Bank of Round Lake, (312) 546-2111.

To rent or own—that is the question

She: It makes more sense -- and dollars -- to own your living quarters than rent them.

He: Owning a home is one continual -- and losing -- battle with dandelions, squeaky hinges and tub caulk.

Despite the dandelions, home ownership remains one of the major goals -- and gratifications -- of people of all age groups, according to Robert G. Walters, senior vice president and general manager of the residential sales group of Baird & Warner.

"There is no 'typical' home buyer in this market, unless you count anyone who can afford a reasonable down payment and the monthly PITI (principal, interest, taxes and insurance) as typical" said Walters, a 30-year campaign veteran of the Chicago area's real estate scene.

He explained: "Young, old and in-between; married, married with children, unmarried with children, never-married, roommates and extended families all share a common interest: to own the place where they live."

There are many traditional reasons for wanting a home, Walters notes, as well as some new ones -- both emotional and economic.

"One of the most important psychological reasons that home owners cite is the need to have a 'safe haven' from the pressures and cares of the world," said Walters, adding: "Others see a home as a symbol of success and/or a statement about self and life style."

The biggest economic reason is accumulation of equity, followed by tax benefits that add to that equity, says Walters, versus a renter's realization that paying rent buys space for a month but nothing else.

"It is true that somebody else worries about the dandelions, but you can have your green grass hassle-free when you own a condominium," said Walters, adding, "Never-marrieds and divorced people especially are fueling condominium townhome sales."

For the marrieds, commitment to a 25 or 30-year mortgage still is symbolic of the commitment to each other, and to the community in which a couple resides.

"The men report added feelings of achievement, community spirit and a greater desire to make new friends. The women say togetherness and communication are better," Walters reported, "Except for the dandelions."

WHAT CONDITION IS YOUR SPINE IN?

The condition of your spine has a direct relationship to your health. The spinal cord is the lifeline of the body. If you are having the sensations of numbness in the hands or feet, electric shock sensations, hot spots, cold spots, constant stinging or even burning, chances are your spine is not in the condition it should be in. These are signs of severe chronic nerve irritation and should be cared for before more serious irreversible complications occur.

Pinched nerves can be the cause of:

1. Headaches
2. Neck Pain
3. Shoulder Pain or Knee Pain
4. Difficulty Breathing
5. Lower Back Pain, Hip Pain, and Pain Down the Legs.

Throwing candlesticks not fits is Leslie's business

by GLORIA DAVIS

When children leave home to pursue their adult dreams some mothers head for the shopping malls, or the nearest golf course or tennis courts with their new found freedom.

There are those that turn to volunteer and club work and some head back into the corporate fray they left many years before.

Rosemary Leslie of Lake Villa did get involved with a full-time job four years ago, but it is a full-time labor of love, doing the thing she had enjoyed doing part-time for three years.

Leslie is a potter. She has been throwing decorative and functional works of art onto her potter's wheel from scratch.

Having recently moved from Deerfield, she has just gotten into her new studio which is attached to her home, built on the shores of Deep Lake.

"The area and the lake are really conducive to creativity, she says.

There's no sign on her house, she doesn't advertise, so how can this be a full-time business, you ask!

It seems "talent will out," and word of mouth is her best salesman.

She exhibits at many area juried art shows and has sold much of her work through such showings.

The tall stoneware-like candlestick she is pictured with is probably her most popular work. "Most potters just don't want to bother with candlesticks, so they're not easy to find, and they are in demand," she says.

Like the candlestick, she makes casserole dishes, meat platters and other cooking and dinnerware which, when fired to 2,500 degrees becomes very practical (oven proof).

"I like making durable things," she says, adding, "I have this crazy dream that thousands of years from now, when future geologists find my hand-made relics they'll look at my signature and exclaim, 'Oh good! Here's another one of Rosemary's.'"

Leslie has also been commissioned by a vice president of McDonalds to make all of his corporate Christmas gifts.

One of her favorite orders came from

Rosemary Leslie on her wheel

Ravinia which commissioned her to make several dozen pottery lanterns decorated with cutout musical notes, to be used by the picnickers who attend the concerts.

Her latest showing was at the Riverwoods Housewalk last weekend where she was one of 26 artists chosen from a nationwide field to show their wares in one of the five Smillion homes involved in the housewalk.

She has as many orders as she can handle and best of all, she is her own boss and can work in her favorite surroundings in a time element of her choosing, is this a dream job or what?

Alladin brings lamp to CLC

The use of magic and mime will make the College of Lake County's production of "Aladdin" an Arabian night or afternoon to remember.

The annual Theatre for Children production is scheduled for Fridays, Oct. 7 and 14 at 7:30 p.m., and Saturdays and Sunday, Oct. 8, 9 and 15 at 2 p.m.

The creative dramatics, colorful costumes and imaginative sets will especially appeal to children from five to eight years of age, but adults will appreciate the theatrical effects and moments of more sophisticated humor.

The cast of Aladdin includes James Hasset of Winthrop Harbor playing Aladdin; Will Tremont of Wauconda playing the Evil Magician; Rick French of Lake Villa playing two Genies; Beth Blickers of Indian Lake playing Aladdin's mother; Virginia Jones of Grayslake playing a beautiful princess; Eric Hall of Libertyville playing the Sultan; and Kevin Early of Mundelein playing Pico the mime.

Ready for benefit showing

From left, Sonja Stahl, Marcia Tiles, Connie Manika, Charlotte Chapple, Lenore Werner, and Doris Lake, staff of new Winstore Homes in Barrington, are ready for Showcase on the Green, Oct. 13-30, one time public showing of eight of $1 million homes built around golf course designed by Jack Nicklaus. Expected to draw more than 75,000, tickets for showcase are available by calling (312)381-7470.

Classic car rally raises $17,000 for research

With perfect autumn weather for the entire weekend, the 11th annual Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally duplicated last year's 10th and biggest event. Six hundred and fifty classic, antique and special interest vehicles attended the two-day event at Americana Lake Geneva Resort, and $17,000 was raised for childhood cancer research in memory of Corinne Kreissl.

Since the first rally in 1978, the total amount raised is now at $105,000.

Prizes and awards were presented at 2 p.m. inside the Americana Resort Ski Lodge by emcee Betty Bartelson of Lake Geneva. Lake Geneva Mayor Spiro Condos welcomed all; Dr. Jack Cummings of Whitewater, and the American Cancer Society expressed appreciation and originators George and Janice Kreissl and the son Kurt were also there to assist in the presentations.

Winner of the grand prize, a complete weekend package for two at the Americana Lake Geneva Resort, was Alvin Digles of Williams Bay--his third year in attendance.

The second prize, a citrine stone, donated by China West of Lake Geneva was won by Edward Cunningham of Grayslake, Ill.

Third prize, a one-fourth ounce of Liberty gold coin from the Citizens National Bank of Lake Geneva was won by Jessica Prelletz of Wilmette, Ill., who tied with Mary Pierson of Lake Geneva, but won by a draw.

Winners also received trophies donated by First Bank Southeast of Lake Geneva. Dash plaques were also presented to the first 500 cars entered.

Hey good lookin'

Aimee Lynn Gregorin, 16 months, left, was chosen to be state finalist for Tiny Stars of America, in baby division; her brother Eric Thomas, 5, won first place in J. C. Penny Beach Buddies Photo Contest in 4-6-year-old division. They are children of Marilyn and Tom Gregorin, Lindenhurst.

Plays Muir

Television and stage actor Lee Stetson will play naturalist John Muir in 'Conversation With a Tramp,' at Ryerson Woods Conservation Area at 7:30 p.m., on Oct. 22.

October more than Halloween fun offered in County

Traditionally, October brings to mind visions of ghosts and goblins at Halloween, the completion of all colors, October fests and harvest time. Lake County offers an array of activities for well-spent time.

Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, Milwaukee Ave. and Rte. 22, Lincolnshire (312)634-0200, features the musical play "West Side Story" through Oct. 30 with performances Wednesdays through Sundays. Dinner-theater packages and group reservations are available.

The College of Lake County Auditorium, Grayslake, (312)223-6601, features hypnotist Jim Wand in a 7:30 p.m. performance on Oct. 10. The audience will enjoy humor and hypnotic skills. General admission is $2; CLC students and alumni free.

Genesee Theatre, 203 N. Genesee, Waukegan, (312)336-0494, features a seminar "What's in a Book", including introductions to fairy tales, fables and folk lore, Oct. 21 and 22. Performances are scheduled for Friday at 9:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. and Saturday at 3 p.m.

The American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, (312)367-0707, will host an Old Time Community Barn Dance at 8 p.m. on Oct. 22. Dance instruction will be available, and a live string band will perform.

Ryerson Woods Arena, 21950 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield, (312)948-7750 is the setting for "Conversations With a Tramp", featuring Lee Stetson in a one-man show Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $5 in advance and $6 at the door.

Volo Bog State Nature Area, 28478 W. Brandenburg Rd., Volo (815)344-1294, celebrates Halloween with a night of ghost stories told by Jenny Armstrong, Oct. 29 at 7 p.m. Admission is $1 and reservations are required.

'Last of Class' latest production by 4 Star

"Last of the Class" by Fred Carmichael was selected by Four Star Productions, Inc., to open their 1988-89 season.

Premiering Sept. 18, the fun-filled Carmichael classic will run through Dec. 15. The first Sunday Brunch/Theatre package offered this season will be Oct. 2 at noon; curtain at 1:30 p.m.

Ann-Marie Cina, actor/director, last seen as Edna Edison in Four Star Productions' "Prisoner of Second Avenue" is directing this almost-farce.

When two old classmates meet in a seedy hotel room in New York City to claim the inheritance of a deceased friend, the frantic antics begin. The "inheritance" turns out to be a pornographic business that involves them with a stripper and a gangster out to break their bones.

Throw in a misplaced would-be bride and a tough "lady bellhop" out to make a buck any way she can and your sides will be splitting as soon as the lights go up.

Don Crop (Mundelein) and Bill Bunton (Wauconda) star as the ex-classmates who will be truly unforgettable after this performance. Cast includes Karen Wells, Yvonne Alton, Lillian Allen and Danny Turner as the other colorful characters in this comedy.

The beautiful Tamara Royale Inn, located on U.S. Rte. 31, six miles north of Rte. 14 in McHenry, is again the perfect setting for a delicious lunch and theatre presentation.

Luncheon/theatre available Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday afternoons.

For more information and reservations, call (815)344-0565 or (815)344-2969. In Wisconsin, call (414)862-6296, or write Four Star Productions, Inc., 804 S. Pearl, McHenry, IL 60050.

'Last of Class'

Boston, where it all began by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Having traveled to many far away foreign cities, I felt it time I visit the city where our own country began. The city which was home to Paul Revere, John Hancock and Samuel Adams. The city where the pilgrims landed: I finally took a trip to Boston.

I found the perfect first stop right at the airport. Take the walkway between terminal B and C to the center parking lot. Then take the elevator to the 16th floor observation tower for a birds-eye view of the city and harbor. Admission is free.

An exciting way to get to downtown Boston from the airport is by water shuttle! Look for the free bus which takes you to the dock alongside the airport. The 7-minute trip across the harbor to Rows Wharf gives an interesting prospective of the city. Go ahead and spend the $6 a person for the ride. I'm going to show you a way to return for 60 cents.

Once at Rows Wharf, pass up the tour buses and trolleys. This city is made for walking. Head right along the harbor to Market Street, then left to City Hall. You are now at the beginning of the "Freedom Trail".

Actually, the Freedom Trail is two separate loops. The north loop being identified by a red line and the south by a blue. I don't mean just on a map. These lines are actually painted on the sidewalks! At times, the line becomes a row of red bricks inlaid in the cement. Just follow the lines and you can't get lost.

The north loop will take you past Paul Revere's house and the Old North Church. You can also see the U.S.S. Constitution from one point. This area is a charming Italian neighborhood known as the "North End".

The south loop passes a cemetery where Paul Revere, John Hancock and the real "Mother Goose" are buried. You'll see many of the original buildings where our founding fathers secretly planned the revolution.

O.K., so let's find that cheap way back to the airport. Along side the tourist information center by City Hall is the entrance to the Boston subway known as the "T". Catch the train to the airport for only 60 cents. It's comfortable, clean and very safe.

MAGICWORD

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions — horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle, then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Get involved in social happenings.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Looking ahead to the change of seasons, you're bound to start going through some changes as well. Romance figures heavily in the next few weeks.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A daring, creative and interesting individual is about to cross paths with you; look to this one with admiration. There is a lot you can learn right now.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Humbling yourself for a while wouldn't be such a bad idea, or else someone will clip your feathers for you! Keep creative thoughts burning slowly.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Forge ahead with your new plans. Be an exciting and energetic go-getter at the office. Let others notice your fine capabilities, and get compensated.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Measuring the abilities of others according to your own achievement scales is wrong. There are some who work more slowly, but who work efficiently.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Wrap up the loose ends of some important deals. Remember to send birthday cards to people who count. An understanding person can be of help now.

A minor league pitcher was once traded to another team for 20 uniforms.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your sense of humor usually leaves them rolling in the aisles, but remember not to work for laughs at the expense of others. You know what this means!

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Readjust your schedules so that you'll be able to spend more time with friends and family. A magical evening out with your loved one is almost certain.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Yes, you've earned a pat on the back, but stop gloating and get rolling again! There are others who are gaining on, and almost surpassing, you.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Traveling to an affordably exotic locale isn't a bad idea now. Before leaving anywhere, your home is sorely in need of some attention. Work on it.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Review your financial affairs with a keen eye for detail. Step up your plans for economic security. Key family members should know these new decisions.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) The outdoor world is calling you. Get physical, and take along your best buddies while you're at it. Crossing unfamiliar boundaries is not recommended.

If you were born this week, you must learn here and now that you've got to venture out more in this world. Your skills and abilities are far above normal, but no one is going to come knocking at your door and beg you to produce. Ambition is what you are lacking, and since you know this now, you can correct it and get on to the success which can truly be yours.

Kirk Players to open political comedy Oct. 7

When the Kirk Players present their 23rd season opener on Oct. 7 and 8, two area "Rookies" will be in the cast. Debra Mieszala, of Mundelein, will be playing the young and beautiful member of a campaign team trying to get their senatorial candidate elected in "Win with Wheeler," a timely political comedy.

Stu Armstrong plays another member of the campaign staff. He plays an idealistic law student who wants to get his candidate elected, but draws the line at some of the tactics. One of his problems is allowing eager young Debra to "have a couple of drinks" with the local political power base, congressman Jack Davis (played by Kirk Veteran, Floyd Baker of Vernon Hills), to help get his support of their candidate.

Both Mieszala and Armstrong are familiar to the area in other capacities, but neither has performed on a stage since school. Mieszala is more used to a uniform than a skirt and blouse and more used to being on a horse than on a stage. She's a forest ranger at the Lakewood Forest Preserve.

Armstrong is also more easily recognized in a uniform. Although he lives in Gurnee with his two young daughters, he works as a mailman out of the Mundelein post office.

Another guest performer, Greg Shaw, a Mundelein High School sophomore, who won the groups best actor award in their summer workshop, will also be in the cast. Shaw plays a bellboy who has considerable trouble getting a tip from the campaign staff headquartered in his hotel.

Other members of that staff are played by Kirk Veterans, Hill Carter of Mundelein, who plays the veteran campaign leader whose goal is to win at any cost; Bill Phillips of Buffalo Grove, who plays the speechwriter; Donna Lynn of Schaumburg who plays the assistant campaign manager; Tom Schriipt of Mundelein who plays the "joke writer" and Jeff Lynn of Mundelein who plays the official photographer.

Also, in the cast is veteran player, Phyllis Carter of Mundelein, who plays the candidates wife; and second year player Suzanne Rosen of Lake Bluff who plays the campaign manager's neglected wife.

"Win with Wheeler" will play on the Mundelein High School stage on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7 and 8 with an 8 p.m. curtain. All profits from the production will be donated to the Lake County Arts Council.

Tickets, which are $4 for adults, $2 for full time students and only $1 for senior citizens, are available from arts council members, Kirk Players or at the door on show nights.

Dynamics seeks members

Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics has started rehearsals for their big 20th birthday celebration Jan. 21 and 22 at Libertyville High School. They are currently seeking a limited number of all voices for their adult mixed chorus show.

High school students are encouraged to join. Also, persons who enjoy singing and dancing, since several songs will be choreographed.

Rehearsals are held every Sunday evening from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in Mundelein. Vocal scholarships are available to singing high school students.

The chorus sings a variety of music--leaning toward contemporary, popular and

Broadway songs; however, each show adds variety with new challenging eight-part secular songs and popular folk tunes.

The group is also seeking a piano accompanists for the chorus and soloists.

Choral Dynamics is a very social organizations, having a September Fest, winter and summer dinner dances, a summer picnic and other social events.

Singers desiring more information or wishing to join the group are asked to call the director, Traxler, evenings and weekends at (312)362-3348 to arrange for an audition. This will determine the voice range of the singer. Auditioning singers are not asked to sing a song.

Chorus to open season

"Personally, I'm excited about the 1988-89 season because it's my 10th season," said Dr. Don Horisberger. The season begins Oct. 8 at 8 p.m. in Lakehurst Mall. The Waukegan Symphony Chorus will join the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra to perform the "Halloween Pops."

"The chorus started 12 years ago and there were just 25 or so members," said Horisberger. "Now we have 140 members."

In June of 1989, the chorus will venture to Carnegie Hall. The chorus was invited to perform under the direction of Horisberger.

After performing at New York City's Avery Fisher all at the Lincoln Center with the American Symphony Orchestra, a fellow conductor hailed Horisberger as "one of the finest people I have met in the choral music field ... a distinguished musician."

Peter Tiboris. In addition to his conduction duties, Horisberger performs organ recitals across the United States and Europe. He is also a professional member of the Chicago Symphony Chorus.

Waukegan sets photo contest

The Third Annual 'Picture Waukegan' Photo Contest is now underway with a new format, new objective and new entry categories, announced Special Events Director Debra Davis.

The contest will run from until Oct. 31, and it is open to all Lake County amateur photographers. A $50 cash prize will be given to the winner in each of the six categories, and all entries have the chance to be selected for the 1989 Waukegan postcard series.

New photo entry categories are 1) Parks of Waukegan, 2) Waukegan's Lakefront, (including the beach, harbor, piers and fisherman, 3) Events and Leisure in Waukegan, 4) Buildings of Waukegan, 5) Waukegan Seasons and Scenery, and 6) Misc/Anything Goes. 5 x 7 or 8 x 10 color pictures must be submitted to the Special Events Office, 106 N. Utica St., and all photos become the property of the City of Waukegan. "We are hoping to find some very unique photos to use as Waukegan postcards, and to do so, the photos must easily identify Waukegan," stated Special Events Director Debra Davis.

Contest fliers with additional category information are available by calling (312)360-9000 ext. 513, or by stopping by the Waukegan Special Events Office, 106 N. Utica St.

Schedule variety showing

Symphony gets new manager

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus continues to grow in leaps and bounds.

The symphony recently acquired the services of Lynn Shumaker as the new full-time business manager. At 21, Shumaker assumes responsibility for the financial and business affairs for the symphony.

"I am very excited about coming to Waukegan," said Shumaker. "I was looking for a community interested in the arts and in keeping a symphony and chorus in the city."

Shumaker's position was previously part-time. Now a full-time position, Shumaker will be handling all administrative duties.

Waukegan Park Dist. Cultural Arts Mgr. Lynn Schornick considers Shumaker's arrival as a major step forward for the symphony.

"Having a full-time business manager is a major step for the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus," he said. "We are delighted to have someone as qualified and energetic as Lynn Shumaker."

Originally from Findlay, Ohio, Shumaker graduated last spring from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich. She majored in French and marketing with a minor in music.

At Hillsdale, Shumaker played the flute for the Hillsdale College-Community Orchestra and helped manage the organization. She has also worked with the arts/performance series which contracted outside arts groups to perform at the college. During her last semester at Hillsdale, she acted as manager of the group.

Shumaker also spent time in Avignon, France at the Institute for American Uni-

CPR class

A CPR class will be offered by the Lindenhurst Park Dist. was scheduled to start Thursday, Oct. 6, and continue on Thursday, Oct. 13. The class meets certification requirements of the American Red Cross.

versities.
In coming to Waukegan, Shumaker left the manage-

Gurnee MILLS

HOW WILL THE GURNEE MILLS SHOPPING CENTER AFFECT OUR FUTURE?

ANNUAL LOCAL TAX REVENUE INCREASES...

with the Gurnee Mills retail development...

Taxing Jurisdiction	Operating Budget	Yearly Projected Revenue from Mall	Percentage of Budget Paid for by Mall Revenues
Village of Gurnee	$4,060,800	$4,061,575	100%
School Dist. 50	$5,836,838	$1,383,410	24%
School Dist. 121	$8,731,793	$1,191,409	14%
Gurnee Park District	$1,600,000	$306,870	19%

if the Gurnee Mills were to be developed as residential...

Taxing Jurisdiction	1987 Tax Revenues	Annual Shortfall due to Residential Development
Village of Gurnee	$776,670	($148,941)
School Dist. 50	$4,501,197	($1,333,520)
School Dist. 121	$7,210,159	($1,065,128)
Gurnee Park District	$810,956	($143,923)

Just imagine how this increase in income will positively affect the quality of services in these jurisdictions.

ENVIRONMENTAL BENEFITS...

Western Development Corporation's Gurnee Mills project will provide more than 40 acres of landscaped buffers that will provide an attractive natural view for neighbors and residents. Over $2 Million for buffers alone will be provided. Western Development will also be providing over $4 Million to the county for regional improvements to insure that the Mills will fit comfortably into the community. An additional 40 acres of open space will be preserved which will provide natural viewing and studying areas for local schools and organizations along with extensive nature trails for community use.

ANTICIPATED EMPLOYMENT BENEFITS...

Construction Period (2 years)

2245 Jobs

(Construction to be handled by union tradesmen)

Permanent Jobs

2723 Positions

(Ranging from entry level to management positions)

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE COMMUNITY...

Western Development's objective is to become the best neighbor it can be within the community, the county, and the state providing sales tax revenue of $5,099,500 to the community, $1,274,875 to the county, and $26,280,522 to the state. A variety of community rooms and meeting spaces in the mall will be provided for senior citizen's programs, community events and organizations. The Gurnee Mills shopping center will establish Western Development Corporation as a good neighbor assisting in community development, tourism, and the overall enhancement of the local economy.

Dream of helping led journalist to himself

When John Michaelson, who has been a journalist for over 35 years, 10 years with Lakeland

Newspapers, had a dream of an easier way to provide handicaps with equipment and services than the existing agencies, little did he know that he would be the one to try and create such an agency.

True, there are such agencies as the Dept. of Rehabilitation Services (DORS), March of Dimes, Easter Seal Society, Muscular Dystrophy, etc.

"But with most of these agencies, they each have their guidelines and limitations," Michaelson said. "What I want to see is an agency that doesn't require a lot of red tape before a person can get his or her needs."

After talking to a few people who provided encouragement, Mobility For Disabled of Illinois was created.

MFD, which will be the symbol for the agency, will be the private non-profit organization established to provide funds for the purchase of equipment and/or services as needed for any handicapped person (physically or mentally) permanently disabled by any type of disease or injury), regardless of race, religion or ethnic status, who for some reason is unable to receive such equipment and/or services from other established organizations or agencies.

Michaelson said MFD's goal is to provide mobility for a handicapped individual to be able to function as a useful and productive person in society.

MFD will exist solely on donations from agencies, businesses, humanitarian organizations or individuals. Contributions are tax deductible.

If you want to help or have any equipment, call or write MFD. The temporary headquarters is 2808 Elisha, Zion, 60099, or call (312) 872-1023.

A fundraiser has been set for 7 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14, at the JM Club in Waukegan. It will be a variety show featuring Tanya Strawbridge, a country recording singer.

Women In Business

Economics major Peterson enjoys hotel management

Showing off suite

Sue Peterson, director of sales and marketing at Gurnee Holiday Inn, shows off one of hotel's new suites available. Hotel has doubled its rooms available this year. Peterson has been with the Holiday Inn for five years. Previously, she worked in the customer services staff at Wisconsin Natural Gas Co. Peterson has a B.A. in economics from University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

It is 1975. Gerald Ford is president. Shows such as "Charlie's Angels" are high on the ratings.

But for a woman who wants a career in business, those were not the best of times.

"Back then, your choices were secretary, school teacher or nurse," Sue Peterson said.

Peterson chose none of the above. Instead, she attended the University of Wisconsin-Parkside, earned a degree in economics and landed a job at Wisconsin Natural Gas Co. in the customer services department. Even when she was in that position in the late 1970s through 1981, the old stereotypes of business women were prevalent.

"It was hard to be taken seriously. Everybody thought I was the secretary and asked for the boss," Peterson said.

But nobody makes that mistake anymore. Today the Kenosha, Wis. resident is director of marketing and sales at Gurnee-Waukegan Holiday Inn, a position she has held for five years.

"Hotel management is one area where there are more women than men," she said.

As sales and marketing director, Peterson is in charge of the advertising budget at the hotel as well as handling public relations work.

It has been a busy time for the Holiday Inn; which was built a couple of years prior to the opening of Great America. A new road to replace Cemetery Rd. is being built in the rear of the hotel; Tri-State Business Park is open across the street and the hotel has seen a doubling of its room capacity from 113 to 226.

Peterson said there is further plans to expand the hotel's space for meetings. "We're very busy with meetings," she said. Virtually every day, the sign out front recognizes one group or another which will be at the hotel.

Several new hotels are open or are being built in the Gurnee area - most notably a Days Inn just down the street from the Holiday Inn. Peterson said the competition is not a concern.

"There have been a lot of new hotels in the past few years, but most of those do not appeal to the same markets we do," Peterson said.

Peterson said she received inspiration to get into the business world from her father. "My dad was very encouraging," Peterson said.

Peterson has two sons, Jack, a photographer and Dave, a certified public accountant.

Working hard to make banking easy.

"Managing our careers was easy. The hard part was managing our money."

We found that over the years as our banking needs increased, the personal service at our bank had decreased. Every time we turned around we were dealing with someone new. We wanted a banking relationship where we were more than just an account number. We needed a long term plan to handle our finances. We need a Banker who knew us by name and understood our present and future financial needs.

So we switched our accounts to the First National Bank of Waukegan.

Our banker, Marla Maxwell, anticipates our needs and doesn't hesitate to share her advice.

It was the smartest move we could have made. It opened our eyes to what a sound banking relationship should be.

And look where it got us! Now we have a house of our own and know how to borrow money intelligently...as well as save money, plan for our kids' schooling and even plan for our retirement down the road!

At our bank, we're much more than an account number...we're Number 1.

Gifts and gags make work fun

by GLORIA DAVIS

In the spring of 1985, Joanne Linkers had never been in the retail business yet, with the help of a silent partner, she decided to join Antioch's retail community.

Another major decision she made at that time was to try and make her business a fun business and that's just what she did when she opened J. J. Blinks in Antioch's TIF Dist. on Main St.

The novelties, adult toys and gag gifts are not only fun to buy but much more fun to sell.

"I'm always dealing with happy people" said Linkers, adding, "They're in a party mood looking for something different and fun to give for a gift."

"I found out that people spend a lot of money on gag gifts and my experience had been that the salespeople I had dealt with were usually crabby and weren't ever able to ask any questions you might have."

Like most people that are their own boss, Linkers puts in many more hours than the usual 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"People want to buy my products at night and on weekends, that's when the parties are," she said.

Blinks is open seven days a week, only from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sundays, so Linkers found herself literally working night and day when she first opened.

Loud complaints about her never being home soon emanated from her husband; so she hired extra help and now only works 50 hours a week.

Last year, Linkers, along with Fran Kush, who had worked for her at Blinks; opened the gift basket right next store and it wasn't too long before they put a doorway in the wall.

The Gift Basket sells gourmet foods and gifts that are put in the appropriate basket while the customer waits.

Not only does Linkers thrive on the hard work both stores take, but she is also active in the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, serving as the group's second vice president.

She was kept busier than ever this summer when she chaired the Chamber's RV, Auto and Boat Show.

How can she run two successful businesses with no prior business experience to speak of?

"Just lucky I guess," replies Linkers, "I guess I was just in the right place at the right time." The fact that she thoroughly believes, "the harder you work the better the results," surely had something to do with her business success.

JOSEPH SOULAK

Lindenhurst of today is among the growing communities in Lake County. New homes and businesses are popping up almost every day. The real estate market is hot, real hot!

At the center of this is Chris Jackson. She is up to her eyeballs in selling homes as president of ERA/Woodland and building them by virtue of her title with the companion Woodland. Both occupy the same address at E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst's main right now the real estate market is "available," she said of days that sometimes extend from 7 or 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. and seven days a week. There is no thing as a normal 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. day for her.

Helping Jackson is a staff of more than half dozen brokers and realtors plus mother, Alice, who is the other 50 percent owner of the two businesses. A mother herself, Jackson does the managing and gets the rewards as well as the "kisses," she said in crediting those around her much of the success the two companies enjoy.

Jackson is a determined, conscientious business woman, who inherited much of what she knows, does and says to her father, the late Vic Schaeffer. He died in 1974, leaving behind two thriving businesses to his daughter and wife.

Once upon a time the 38-year-old graduate of Antioch High School wanted to be a veterinarian. She even attended Northern Illinois University with this in mind. But the excitement of what was happening in Lindenhurst was too much. She came to join her father in the business world.

Her father was general manager for the plus year-old Woodland Construction. The firm made a name for itself as the developer of Lindenhurst starting in the 1950s. When Engle sold in 1974 it to Schaeffer and his daughter. The year they formed ERA/Woodland. Business has been booming ever since with the exception of a year or two when the local real estate market rose and with the economy.

Instead of stick-built or pre-fab homes, Woodland Construction Co. has the local franchise for Wick panelized homes. This is not to be confused with Wickes Lumber. Constructed in Mazomanie, Wis., near Madison, the components are brought to home site in sections and put in place using a crane. Prices start at $60,000 without lot and go to $250,000 or more. Jackson or someone else in the office sits down with each buyer to custom design every home from the family room and kitchen to the baths and bedrooms.

"Because the real estate market is so hot the home-building business is dormant right now," Jackson said. "But we're going to push that part again soon."

Jackson has little trouble balancing her business life with her home life. Her husband, Don, is in management with the Federal National Mortgage Assn. (Fannie Mae) in the Loop. He commutes daily by train. His wife is at home to see him off in the morning and, most times, is there when he returns at 6:30 p.m. "My husband understood me and my hours when we got married," she said of her second marriage, "so we get along well."

She has a once-a-week housekeeper. When her daughter, Vicky, now 17, was small there was a live-in nanny. Vicky is a student at the College of Lake County enroute to a career as a lawyer. She has no immediate plans to join her mother in the business world.

Just as she has more time for business than her home, Jackson isn't one for joining clubs and organizations. Her two memberships are in the Lake County and national Board of Realtors.

As busy as she is, Jackson does find some quiet time for herself and her family. "It's usually between 1 and 3 p.m. on a Sunday afternoon when the Bears are playing," she said of almost everyone's favorite football team in this area. Once a year she may vacation with her mother, as she did last year when the two took a fall color tour of New England.

Where did Jackson get her will and determination to succeed? "Much of it came from my father," she said of a man known throughout this part of Lake County as a fair, honest, hard-working, knowledgeable businessman. "My father was as honest as the day is long," Jackson said.

LCAVC to host fashion seminar

Jobs/Victor Temporary Services and Victor Personnel Staffing in conjunction with the Lake County Business Industry Education Consortium and the Lake County Vocational Center will host "Today's Women -- How to Dress from Work to Play".

The free program will be held at the Vocational Center, 19525 W. Washington St., Grayslake, on Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m.

The beauty and fashion forum will focus on the contemporary woman's need for a flexible and efficient wardrobe, hairstyle and makeup.

Participants include the students and staff of the Lake County Vocational Center and employees and clients of Victor Temporary Services and Victor Personnel Staffing. The wardrobe and fashion segment is courtesy of Casual Corner and Ups & Downs of the Hawthorne Shopping Center in Vernon Hills.

Hairstyling and makeup presentations will be given by the Beauty and Cosmetology Division of the Lake County Vocational Center.

CLC hosts seminar

Information session about the College of Lake County's associate degree nursing program are scheduled on a monthly basis. The meetings will be held the first Tuesday of each month at both 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. on the Grayslake campus. Each meeting takes from one to two hours.

Persons interested in the nursing program are encouraged to attend. Topics to be discussed include nursing as a career, the CLC nursing program, evening nursing classes, the career mobility system, and general information.

CONCEPTS 'N' MOTION
320 N. LAKE STREET
MUNDELEIN

Light workout

Sue Bauchinger stands in front of some of her exercise tables at Concepts 'N' Motion, while customer Calhi Resch uses one of tables in background.

Toning center provides fitness with light effort

The age-old question, or at least as old as the fitness craze, asks how someone can gain the toning benefits of strenuous exercise without putting in all that work.

Sue Bauchinger, owner of Concepts 'N' Motion at 320 N. Lake St. in Mundelein, just may have answered that question.

Concepts 'N' Motion, a "toning center," utilizes eight machines, or tables, as Bauchinger calls them, to let customers do isometrics in a more passive way -- exercising at a comfortable rate, not pushing the body to its limit.

"You still have to apply pressure," Bauchinger said. "You can get the same results from doing this as you can from sweating while exercising.

This method can be helpful to those who cannot exercise strenuously, such as people with heart conditions, Bauchinger said. In fact, it was for providing these people with an exercise alternative that the method was created, she added.

Concepts 'N' Motion is only three months old, as Bauchinger just moved here from Kentucky, where she ran a similar toning center for two years.

One reason she came here, she said, was that the market for toning centers is "wide open."

Receptionist to exec: a logical progression

by IRIS MAYFIELD

She's called vice-president. That's called successful.

Vice-President Jill A. Gross of the First State Bank of Round Lake started there as a receptionist in 1979. "I was 20, fresh out of the College of Lake County, and I wasn't ready to go to a four-year school yet. I was looking to enter the professional world."

So she did. Asked why she started as a receptionist, and why in a bank, she said, "I saw the opportunity for advancement."

How does one see that clearly, so young? Whether it was wishful thinking, clear-sightedness, or life playing clean little tricks, she became a customer service representative in 1981, a customer service representative supervisor and ass't. cashier in 1982, she was promoted to ass't. vice-president in 1984, moved to internal audit operations area in 1985, and last year was promoted to the big VP.

Taking one look at her, outdated folk might be tempted to say, "Well, she's made it on her looks." She's 5 feet, eleven ins. tall, lean, hazel eyes, and stunningly beautiful. But, looks don't handle responsibility, ability does. So, what are hers?

She says some are her ability to deal with customer negotiations, plus her sales skills coupled with an accounting background, and a logical approach easily adapted to the banking environment.

Jill graduated from the College of Lake County in 1978 with an associate arts degree. She attended classes at the American Institute of Banking in Chicago from 1980-84. In 1986 she attended the Independent Bankers Ass'n. Commercial Bank Marketing School, and is currently pursuing her bachelor's degree in economics and marketing at Barat College in Lake Forest.

Jill's advice to other women is, "Jump in with an open mind. There are so many opportunities."

Citizens say recycle, compost first favorite choice three solid waste management options to be utilizing recycling and composting, the remainder of waste disposed of in a landfill, judging comments made at a hearing held last evening.

A hearing, held in a meeting room at the College of Lake County, standing-room-only that saw concerns expressed in a less than polite fashion. Only did remarks of a draw applause, and once were catcalls when a question was asked of an official of the County Joint Action Waste Planning evening featured presentations from various officials involved in the handling of solid waste, and a total of 55 questions were set aside for the program for questions and public comment.

Two other options proposed for solid waste disposal are recycling only, and a combination of recycling, recycling and recycling. The level of recycling could fall into three categories:

Minimum, effecting the larger municipalities, which also conduct selective recycling (estimated at 8 to 17 percent of waste);

Minimum, plus recovery of corrugated cardboard, (12 to 29 percent);

Mandatory, recovering bottles, newspapers and aluminum as well, and also utilizing county-wide composting (20 to 42 percent).

A goal of 25 percent recovery has been set for recycling, and to achieve this all municipalities would need to approve a certain level of mandatory recycling.

A clear message brought out at the almost three-hour meeting is that citizens are concerned about the reliability and health and financial risks allegedly involved with incineration.

Since a 25 percent reduction of landfill volume is mandated by the state, the landfill-only option is not really feasible, the audience was told. For purposes of reducing burden on landfills, the state lists incineration high on its hierarchy of solid waste options.

Kathleen Riepe, of Grayslake, expressed concerns about the long-term need for electrical power which would be provided by an incinerator, and the price which would be paid for this power if demand drops.

An important facet of planning are the agreements between different units of government, according to Atty. Bob Varner, legal consultant. Under incineration, in which a product is produced, it is vital that the amount of waste received to produce that product remain constant. If the waste stream increases or decreases from what is planned, the incineration project is in jeopardy.

When a municipality cannot guarantee a waste stream to a specific site due to agreements with subcontractors, a situation in which several villages find themselves, an ordinance can be passed, Varner said. This action can direct waste to go to a certain site.

In any case, a comprehensive plan which reflects plans of all communities involved, and which is approved by all these committees, was called essential. "If you don't make a decision, it will be made for you," Noble said. An example he gave is that if a decision is made to build only a single landfill, people from all areas of the county will be forced to drive that distance. At that point, it is too late to recommend other action, the decision will have already been made.

If landfilling is utilized, a single landfill could be built, or possibly a landfill in each quadrant of the county, with transfer stations most likely being needed. Landfills in Lake County would not accept hazardous waste, but would take construction and demolition waste.

Lake County has proposed a mitigation and compensation plan to address concerns about siting waste disposal facilities. This would be the first such plan to ever be implemented. One aspect of the plan is that "surrogate" homes would be established, in areas not near landfills, having the same economic value as homes near where a landfill is sited. Real estate firms would be retained to monitor property values, and if a home near a landfill is shown to have a decreased value, the difference would be paid to the homeowner by the implementing agency.

Officials said that the risk of liability problems is about the same for each of the three options.

No more room

People came out in droves to attend public hearing on solid waste options held last Thursday evening. The hearing took place at meeting room of College of Lake County, and there was not a spare seat to be found.

Iowa firm pushes incinerators

The public hearing concerning options for solid waste disposal was attended by more persons than local officials and residents.

Speaking in the public hearing period was Hugo Nevard, a representative of the British Thermal Unit output that outdoes that of almost all conventional fuels, according to a fact sheet Nevard had in his briefcase. Nevard also carried samples of the pellets in his briefcase; these were cylindrical in shape, and about five inches long and 1.5 inches wide.

The incinerator model they produce was honed after installation of 12 "best" models constructed across the country, and their best product, put into use in Iowa, has eliminated virtually all of the problems usually associated with incinerators, Nevard said. Each incinerator of this type can handle the waste produced by 35,000 people, Nevard said, and process 85 to 90 percent of the waste received into fuel pellets. And, he added, the machine will pay for the cost of its installation and begin to generate a profit after only one year.

The fuel pellets have a British Thermal Unit output that outdoes that of almost all conventional fuels, according to a fact sheet Nevard had in his briefcase. Nevard also carried samples of the pellets in his briefcase; these were cylindrical in shape, and about five inches long and 1.5 inches wide.

Nevard indicated that he would like to meet with the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency, and officials said they would schedule an appointment.

Pipeline across Lake County

Pipeline work now taking place in central and northeast Lake County is $6.5 million, 20-inch diameter pipeline from near Grayslake to just south of Kenosha to supply Wisconsin markets served by Wisconsin Natural Gas Co. The 17.8 mile, seamless, all-welded pipeline stretches across farm fields and beneath roads, streets and highways. It is being constructed by Moraine Pipeline Co. for Mid-Con Marketing Corp., a subsidiary of Occidental Petroleum Corp., a distributor of natural gas from producing points in the southwest part of the United States and transported to a receipt point near Grayslake for redistribution to such locations as new facility in Kenosha County.

Contract OK

GURNEE --- Warren Twp. High School Board of Education members and negotiating team from the teachers union reached a tentative agreement for a two-year contract at the 13th negotiation session held last week. The contract calls for a $620 raise in the minimum base salary for teachers with a bachelor's degree. The union is expected to vote on the contract proposal Oct. 13 and the board at its regular meeting Oct. 18.

Burn all garbage

LINDENHURST---Approval has been given to a option No. 3 of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency for the disposal of the county's 1,000 tons of garbage per day by the year 2000. This option calls for incinerating 60 percent of all refuse, recycling or composting 24 percent and putting the remaining 16 percent into a landfill. The village has been tentatively picked as a transfer station site for refuse from surrounding communities where it will be trucked to the incinerator as a yet-to-be-selected site in central Lake County.

Post-Polio program

GURNEE---The Post-Polio Program of the Polio Network of Illinois is hosting an open house on Wednesday, Oct. 12 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Lake County DORS office, 3615 W. Grand Ave., Gurnee. Its purpose is to acquaint the public with its new facility, program services and personnel. Certificates of appreciation will be awarded to many individuals who have contributed to the success of the program. In addition, information regarding the late effects of polio will be provided. Individuals are invited to attend. Call for confirmation at 244-8478.

Trustees charged

LAKE VILLA---Mayor Joyce Frayer has filed open-meeting act violation charges with the Lake County State's Atty.'s office for a meeting earlier this week between four trustees on a discussion to hire a village administrator. Those attending were trustees Rob Jenkins, John Anderson, Frank Loffredo and Holland Johnson. There is no record in any village clerk's minutes from prior meetings of the meeting on Oct. 3, which Frayer discovered when driving by the village hall at 7:30 p.m.

Healthy talk is scheduled by Churchill

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist., will address the Tuesday, Oct. 11, meeting of the Lake-McHenry Counties Continuity of Care Organization. It will meet from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the Family Health Center, 2 E. Rollins Rd., Round Lake Beach. Churchill will talk about current legislation affecting health care providers such as those attending the meeting. The organization is composed of organizations and personnel dealing with patients following discharge from a hospital. All health care providers are invited to attend. The organization meets monthly at this location.

Water concern

ROUND LAKE BEACH---County Building officers red-tagged a drainage culvert installation for Mallard Creek Shopping Center as a precaution while potential damage to Round Lake, the receiving body of water, is studied. A resident of Old Shorewood in unincorporated Avon Township, said the drainage outfall would destroy a neighborhood beach.

Santa coming

FOX LAKE---Santa Claus is coming to town for the annual Christmas Parade, and this year he might disdain Rudolph and the other reindeer for a more modern mode of transportation—the helicopter, according to parade organizers. State Rep. Richard Klemm will be the parade's Grand Marshal. Applications for floats and marching bands are being accepted.

Mills hearing

GURNEE ---Gurnee area residents will be able to tell the village board their views on the proposed Gurnee Mills regional mall project at an annexation meeting Oct. 11. The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. at Warren Twp. High School's auditorium. Gurnee Mills, a 325 acre development, is expected to be a $34 million project at buildout. Western Development Corp. hopes to attract shoppers from Chicago and Milwaukee metropolitan areas.

New number

WAUKEGAN---Lake County Clerk Linda Hess has announced that her office has a new telephone number. The phone number to call for vital statistics, elections, and absentee voting information is (312)360-3610. The tax extension and redemption number remains the same, (312)360-6657.

Scouting Report

BY STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Round Lake at Marian Central

Date: Oct. 7
Location: George Harding Field, Woodstock
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Keys to game: Round Lake has won last two Northwest Suburban Conference games to get back into playoff picture at 3-2. The Panthers must face the defending state champs. "Marian is in a class by itself," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said. The Panthers main threats include quarterback Mike Bragg, running back Aaron Meeke who scored three touchdowns against Grayslake last week and a line which forced 38 yards in sacks against Grayslake. And Round Lake has a potent weapon in Bill Thomas - one of the top field goal kickers in the county who has kept the Panthers in each of the first five games.

Lake Zurich at Marengo

Date: Oct. 7
Location: Marengo High School
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Keys to game: is the Bears' recovery for real? Coach Wayne Kuklinski and Co. should find out if they have really improved against a tough Indian team. Lake Zurich is led by quarterback Scott Krezeminski, who led the Bears' offense out of hibernation in a 32-0 ripping of Johnsburg last week. Krezeminski scored a touchdown and intercepted a pass in the win. Lake Zurich is 1-2, 1-4 on the year while Marengo slipped to 2-2, 2-3 with a 25-6 loss at Wauconda. Marengo will be looking for improved line play as Wauconda sacked quarterback Mike Fischer for more than 25 yards in losses.

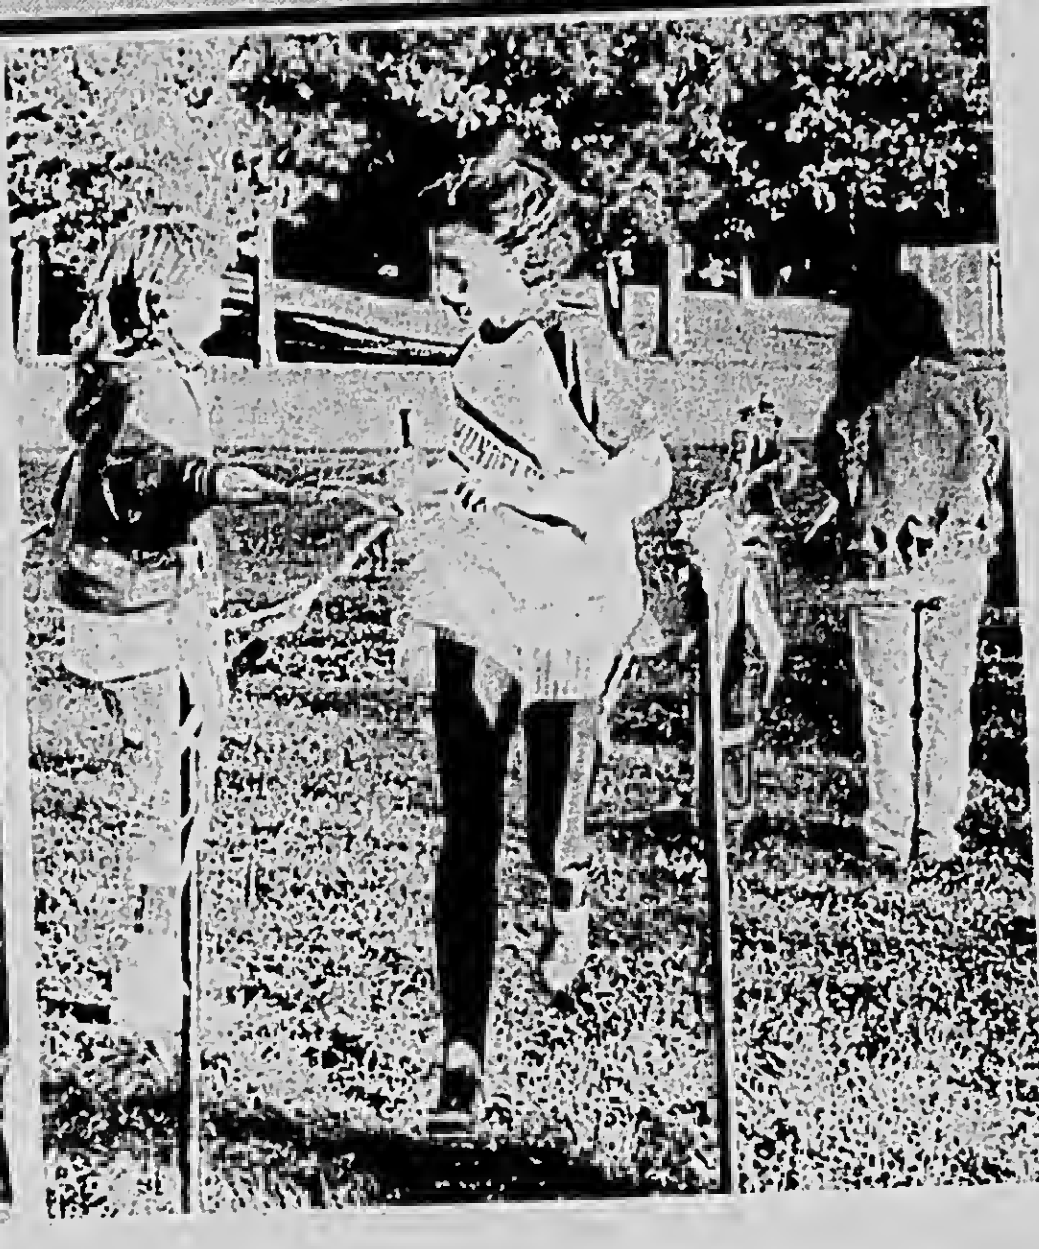

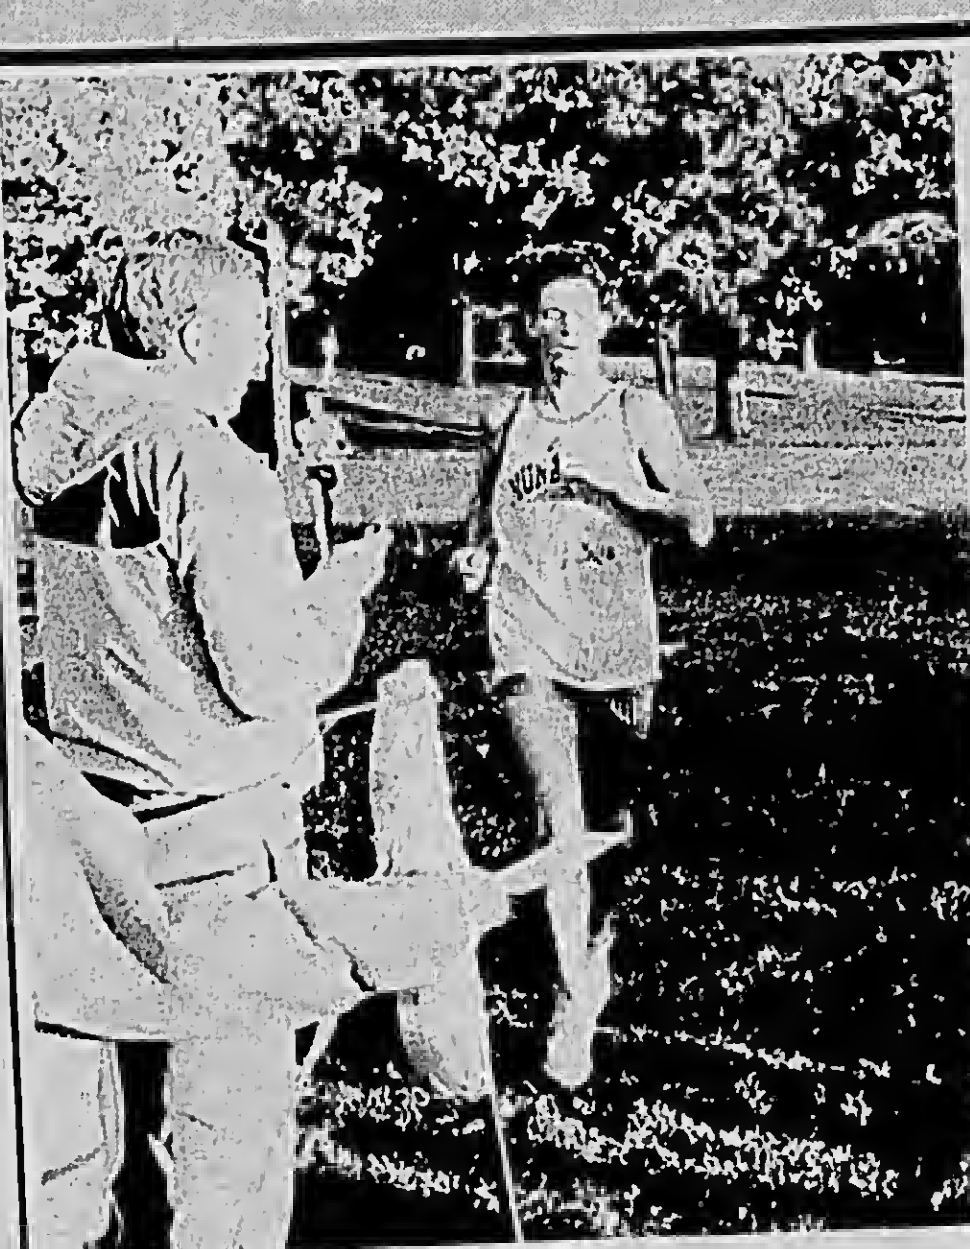

Wauconda at Grayslake

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Grayslake High School
Game time: 1 p.m.
Keys to game: the Bulldogs are indeed for real. Wauconda comes into Grayslake's Homecoming contest with a 4-1 record, 3-0 in the NWSC. The Bulldogs made convincers of Marengo with a 25-6 win at their Homecoming. Wauconda must worry about the Grayslake running game led by John Bouma and Mike Duchane while the Rams must contend with Wauconda QB Dion Niemo. Grayslake Coach Harold Jahnke said quarterbacks like Niemo who can run with the ball are tough for Grayslake to stop. The Rams, 1-4, 1-2, need a win badly after two straight losses knocked them out of NWSC title picture.

Grant at Johnsburg

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Johnsburg High School
Game time: 1 p.m.
Keys to game: it's been a frustrating season for both the Skyhawks and Bulldogs who come into the Johnsburg Homecoming game with 1-9 combined record. The Bulldogs played Marian Central tough for two quarters last week, before the Hurricanes put them away in the second half. Grant features an

Quick-striking Corsairs rebound, back in ESCC championship race

Memorandum.

To: Carmel football fans and press planning to attend the Oct. 8 away game against Holy Cross in River Grove.

Suggestion: plan on leaving plenty of time to get to the game before the start of the varsity contest at 2 p.m.

The reason: in case you have not noticed, the Corsairs are a quick-striking bunch this year. Just ask the St. Joseph team which fell to Carmel 27-0. Before many fans had a chance to finish that first hotdog, the Corsairs were well on their way to a 4-1 record by scoring 13 points in the first eight minutes.

Carmel's Matt Simmons set the tone early, scoring from five yards out to complete a 53-yard, six play drive. An initial TD run was called back because of a Carmel penalty but two plays later Simmons gained 19 yards to the St. Joseph 17.

In an unexpected move, Ricky Spliti recovered an on-side kick, giving Carmel good field position at the St. Joseph 49.

Rams seek hockey assistant

Grayslake Community High School is seeking an assistant hockey coach for the 1988-89 season.

Applicants should possess prior coaching experience and playing high school hockey. Candidates must be available late afternoons and weekday and weekend games from November through December.

The school prefers teacher certified candidates, but will consider those with a variety of experience.

Serious applicants should contact Scott Hannig at (312) 223-8161, Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Simmons, who rushed for 119 yards on the night, once again scored, this time from eight yards out for a 13-0 Carmel lead.

"We worked on that (the on-side kickoff) since Monday. We wanted to get up on them early. They've lost two heartbreakers in a row," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons, whose forces are now 2-1 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, said as the Corsairs celebrated their Homecoming victory.

Simmons was simply unstoppable for the Corsairs. Although he did not equal his best yardage game in terms of rushing yardage, Carmel called on him every time they needed a big play.

"I don't care how many times I get the ball. I will do my job," Simmons, a Zion resident, said. He credited the offensive line for opening up holes from them and naming the linemen tackle to tackle.

Indeed he did.

"He is really something. He is a special player," Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel did not waste any time in getting the third score, either. After another St. Joseph punt, the Corsairs took over at their 43. A pass from quarterback Thad Sutter, to Mike Nichols picked up 13 yards and Simmons gained 11 on a third-and-two play. Simmons then sprinted down the sideline and caught a Sutter pass for a 36 yards out. An extra point by Alden Zemlich made it 20-0.

Simmons caught another pass from Sutter for a TD in the third quarter. This one, from 57 yards, gave Carmel the 27-0 lead with just over a minute left in the third quarter.

Sutter completed six of nine passes.

County athletes help squads

Several Lakeland area graduates are continuing their athletic careers by contributing to success of midwestern college teams.

Lake Zurich High School graduate Mark Siegwald is a member of the Northern Illinois University soccer team. Siegwald has contributed a goal for the Huskies, that coming in a 2-1 Big Central Conference loss to Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville.

Cindy Messinger, a Wauconda High School graduate, is contributing to the success of the Milikin University women's tennis team this fall. Messinger, a junior, won a letter for the Big Blue in tennis last year. Milikin tennis coach Diane Richards started the season with a clean slate, as the team lost three singles players to graduation. Messinger was 8-14 last year in single's play. Milikin, in Decatur, competes in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin.

Three former Warren Twp. High School athletes are members of the Augustana football team. They are senior Frank Bojnicwicz, a 6-0, 205 pound linebacker; freshman Mike Wagner, a linebacker and freshman Eric Divelbiss, a 5-11, 215 pound defensive tackle. Bojnicwicz, a 1985 graduate of Warren, is the leading tackler through two games with 16 tackles - three solos and 13 assists this season.

Heather Dunbar, a 5-10 outside hitter from Grayslake, leads the returning players this fall for the St. Joseph's Pumas volleyball team. Dunbar earned all Great-Lakes Conference honors last year when she topped Puma attackers with 1,224 attempts and 430 kills. Seven returning letter winners plus five talented freshmen are leaving Coach Linda Deno hoping the team can improve on last year's 16-24 record.

Jason Aker of Lake Villa is a member of the Waterburg College football team. Aker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aker, is an offensive tackle for the Knights. The Knights, out of Waverly, Iowa, compete in the Iowa Conference.

Peters enrolls

Sharon Peters of Grayslake, has enrolled for the fall semester at Mount Senario College. Peters, 18, is the daughter of Frank and Kathy Peters, and is a 1988 graduate of Carmel High School.

Listen up

Grayslake volleyball players listen as Coach Tom McNamara gives instructions during match against Johnsbury. Rams have been listening well of late, as they threaten front-runners Round Lake and Marian Central for the Northwest Suburban Conference crown. Grayslake and most county teams are at Stevenson for the Stevenson tournament Oct. 8.

We like to think of it as a token of our appreciation.

You might prefer to think of it as a rebate.

Either way, now you'll find the advantages of buying a heat pump are almost as great as the advantages of owning one.

After all, a heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating and cooling system available. Designed to work like a central air conditioner in the summer, keeping your home cool.

And work with your furnace in the winter, keeping it warm.

That alone makes it a real value.

But add to that a rebate of $100 per ton of cooling capacity—the average being about 2½ tons, or $250—and a heat pump becomes more than an attractive investment.

It becomes an affordable way to keep your home comfortable, all year long.

Which is something you'll be thankful for.

improving offensive line for quarterback Joe Wach. Johnsbury's main threat is Jim Rorig at running back. Grant's offense may be licking its chops at the prospect of facing a defense that has surrendered 167 points in five games.

Carmel at Holy Cross

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Holy Cross High School, River Grove
Game time: 2 p.m.

Keys to game: the start. Last week Carmel racked up 20 of its 27 points before the end of the first quarter. Another start like that and the Corsairs could well be on their way to Win No. 5 in six games, just two away from the magic number of seven needed for the IHSA playoffs. But Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons knows all too well the dangers of looking past an opponent. Holy Cross must try and find a way to do what five teams have failed to - stop Matt Simmons. Simmons picked up another 119 yards before sitting out much of the second half.

Antioch at Mundelein

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Mundelein High School
Game time: 2 p.m.

Keys to game: the host Mustangs got back into the playoff picture last week as quarterback Jolin Bagley directed two touchdown drives in a 14-6 win at Niles North. The 3-2 Mustangs are putting their post-season hopes on the line against the best 1-4 team in the state. Antioch has lost all four games by a touchdown or less, so report

the Sequoits are heading into the North Suburban Conference game looking to vent their frustrations. Antioch features an aggressive defense which stopped Zion for the most part in a 13-6 loss. Running backs Jermaine Wright and Kirk Hansen lead the team on offense. Scott Gooch is an effective placekicker for the Sequoits.

Fenton at North Chicago

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Warhawk Stadium
Game time: 2 p.m.

Keys to game: how good are the Warhawks? Coach Wayne Fiedler and Co. will find out as they take on the undefeated Bison in their Homecoming. North Chicago, coming off a 14-12 win at Stevenson, needs an upset win to keep its playoff hopes alive. Jeff Patterson is a threat to run as well as throw from the quarterback spot and running backs Lamont Lindsey and Jackie Thompson are other chief backfield threats. Fenton went from cellar-dwellers at 0-9 last year to the top of the NSC in one fell swoop.

Warren at Zion-Benton

Date: Oct. 8
Location: Zion-Benton High School, Horizon campus
Game time: 2 p.m.

Keys to game: it's a must win situation for the Blue Devils, 2-3 while the hosts try and stay perfect. Zion was brought back to Earth by Antioch last week and the Blue Devils are looking to pick up where the Sequoits left off. Warren coach Reggie Hughes thinks his defense is fine but the offense needs to take advantage of its opportunities.

WFYR announces radiothon for St. Jude

Cancer is second only to accidents as the leading cause of death among American children. To help five children stricken with catastrophic diseases a better chance of living, radio station WFYR has teamed up with St. Jude Children's Research Hospital to host a 30 1/2 hour radiothon to raise funds.

The event will be broadcast live from the east lobby of the Hyatt Regency

Chicago from 9:30 a.m. Monday, Nov. 21 until noon on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

WFYR's Radiothon will be hosted by 103.5 FYRE's Kurt Johnson, who went to Memphis to see the work of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

"It is an awesome place for life, for those kids stricken with cancer and their wonderful parents. It was just awesome and I'm excited to be a part of this project. Just when am I going to sleep?"

Drew Horowitz, WFYR's vice president/general manager, commented, "103.5 FYRE radio is glad to donate so much air time to this wonderful organization that works so hard for all our children, and all the Chicagoland kids, too. I think this effort with St. Jude is more important to us than anything we've had a chance to do."

The WFYR radiothon will be a major fund raising event for St. Jude, and it is appropriate that it is taking place in Chicago. Although the hospital itself is in Memphis, it has many ties to Chicago.

It was here that Danny Thomas, then a struggling young actor, made a vow to build a shrine to St. Jude if he would "show him his way in life". It was here that Samuel Cardinal Stritch helped him fulfill that vow by advising him to build a place for sick children.

The seeds first planted in Chicago led to the growth of a hospital whose research and treatments give hope and life to children, not only in Memphis, but also in Chicago and throughout the world. Also, a Chicago native, Dr. Joseph Simone, has been director of St. Jude since 1983.

Currently, the hospital is treating more than 3,200 patients, 440 of them from Illinois. Since its opening in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has led the way in the study and treatment of childhood cancer and catastrophic disease. Patients are accepted without regard to race, creed, or the ability of the family to pay.

FYRE's program director, John Wetherbee, adds that, "Anyone can go to St. Jude and anyone can help us raise lots of money for all our kids. Radiothon is a new idea to radio and will be even more exciting with all our special guests. It's just incredible. Everyone must be a part of the WFYR/St. Jude Radiothon."

Anyone interested in volunteering their time at the radiothon can call the St. Jude Midwest Regional office at (312) 786-0460.

Court official is accused of theft

Former director of the Lake County Court Services Dept., George Gallagher, 40, of Grayslake, has been indicted by a Lake County grand jury. He is charged with 13 counts of felony theft and 20 counts of official misconduct in connection with the disappearance of $20,000 in county funds for his personal use over four years.

When arraigned in court on Oct. 3, Gallagher pleaded not guilty. He was released on a $10,000 recognizance bond for a court date on Monday, Oct. 3.

Gallagher is charged with misappropriating mileage, insurance and other types of reimbursement checks, profits from an electronic bracelet monitoring program held last year plus the theft of $20,000 in county paper and copy services to publish a newsletter for the Illinois Probation and Correctional Officers Assn. He formerly served as president of this association.

The checks Gallagher is accused of misappropriating were signed by him and deposited in secret accounts maintained by him. Some of the funds reportedly went to pay a home mortgage.

Gallagher and six other court services employees, including his wife, Susan Smith, were suspended, dismissed or resigned. No other indictments are ex-

LEGAL

If found guilty, Gallagher could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000. He resigned in June and is now employed in the construction field. His salary was $57,000 annually.

Formed in 1984, the department supervised both juveniles and adults before and after court appearances and while on probation.

Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman said probation and other alternatives to jail became too lenient under Gallagher. He said court services employees were asked to falsify records to make their programs look successful.

Ask parity in buying forest preserve land

by JOSEPH SOULAK

Higher priority should be given to acquiring open space land in northwest Lake County, especially around Fox Lake. That is what Mayor William Dam told 60 persons at Grant High School last week attending one of a series of meetings on the long-term open space needs of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

"On a pro-rata basis this quadrant of Lake County is not getting its fair share," Dam said directly to Forest Preserve and County Board officials attending the hearing conducted by Board Member Fred Popp of Dist. 4.

Dam publically called on Forest Preserve officials and County Board members from Dist. 4 to conduct an audit of Forest Preserve purchases in all quadrants of the county. "I made a legitimate request and I expect board members from our area to follow through," Dam said afterwards. "I want the public to see exactly where the forest preserve money is being spent in this county."

The mayor went on to note that Fox Lake and Grant Twp. along with adjoining townships have been slighted on open space purchases. Only Forest Preserve lands in Grant Twp. are a small piece in the northwest corner of the township bordering McHenry County and the Grant Forest Preserve across from St. Bede's Church between Monaville and Wilson Rds.

"This isn't parity," Dam said. "Things are changing. Once people once thought acquisition of such land was a way to get it off the tax rolls. Times are changing. People now realize the value of open space toward improving the value of their land."

"All I am asking for is parity on dollars spent and land acquired in the county," the Fox Lake mayor said. As a result of his request, he hopes the Forest Preserve Dist. will establish more uniform county-wide priorities on future acquisitions.

The Sept. 28 hearing was exactly for that purpose. Unveiled at that and a previous meeting were recommendations of a consultant for future open space land purchases throughout Lake County. No specific parcels have been identified. Following the fourth hearing Forest Preserve commissioners will consider adopting a master plan for future land purchases.

Three to get ready to go on the low balance beam are, from back to front, Cathie Stockwell, Genesis Rivera, and Shanyssa Rivera, showing some of their gymnastic stuff as part of the Round Lake Area Park Dist.'s gymnastic program.

Homemakers plan meeting

How I spent my Summer Vacation

by Johnny Flynn

I had a big carnival in our backyard. I broke my arm. I got yelled at a lot. But my Mom's not mad at me anymore. Since school started she's been a Manpower office temporary. She says it's so-o-o-o nice to talk to adults all day. And she gets to work on neat word processing machines. cause Manpower trained her. For FREE! My mom makes lots of money. She needs it to pay for my cast. And a new clothesline. So I'll be able to tightrope walk again at my next carnival. Only I didn't tell her that part.

After a summer with the kids, you're ready to work with adults To learn new skills. And earn good money Manpower makes it all "child's play" Call us today

The Wine Rack

By BIANCA ST. JOHN

GREAT WHITES FOR WINTER

If you think white wines are only for summer afternoons, and light warm-weather fare, you're missing out on some of the best white wine experiences. When the weather is colder, the tendency is to enjoy white wines less chilled (just a half hour in the refrigerator before serving) and this brings out more of the wine's flavors and makes white wine very compatible with hearty winter foods. Here are some great match-ups: Just released this fall, Rutherford Hill 1986 Gewurztraminer ($6.25) has fresh, tart flavors, with some of the varietals typical spice, and is an ideal consort to pungent Indian curries on a chilly evening.

Callaway Call-Lees 1986 Chardonnay (under $10) is a succulent chardonnay made on the lees, without oak, giving the flavors a richness and body that offers all the virtues of the grape. With creamy seafood soups or stews, such as lobster bisque, this wine is perfect.

Quivira 1986 Sauvignon Blanc ($8) suggests lemon, floral and vanilla-oak in the nose, offers citrusy, apple and oak flavors, a creamy texture and soft mouth feel, and enough depth and complexity to make it stand up well to Cajun favorites like pan-fried blackened fish, a delightful winter entree.

Monterey Vineyard 1986 Petite Fume ($6) offers what the name suggests, flavor nuances of crispness and oak from the delicate toasting of the barrels used for aging. An elegant, Sancerre-style wine, the typical grassy character of the grape is enhanced by a lingering, crisp finish, a wonderful wine to mate with a fragrant herbéd veal stew.

Feelin' Good

In countries where people use a lot of salt — like the U.S.A. — 15 to 20 percent of the population has high blood pressure. In countries where no salt is used, practically nobody has it.

TIM'S AUTO TIPS

Obviously, cars that are driven in the rain and snow are prone to more abuse; their counterparts in the South seem to last much longer. But if all systems are checked — mechanical, cooling, electrical, etc. — you can make a 50-50 mix of your car see Spring in decent condition. A 50-50 mix of antifreeze and water is a good start, as well as checking wheel bearings and chassis components. Door hinges, hood releases and other moving parts should be inspected and lubricated properly so that they open easily and displace moisture. Also, the battery needs to be checked; make sure it is free of corrosives around the terminals and that it is adequately charged.

PET CORNER

Q. Our cat came home one day and started circling. At first I thought she was playing, but she kept it up almost in a frenzy. This went on for quite a while until she finally slept for days. Was she deranged or having a nervous breakdown?

A. Any time a cat circles like that, you should take it to the veterinarian immediately. Circling to the left or right usually indicates an infection in the middle or inner ear.

Q. We recently adopted a kitten and found it has ear mites. Should we take her back?

A. Ear mites are a common parasite for cats, and more adopted kittens have them than don't. Most kittens pick them up from their mothers, but the highly-contagious mites can be picked up anywhere a lot of cats are together.

Ear mites live around and inside the ear and feed on the cat's blood. Although they are very small, you can tell when a cat has them because its normal pink, smooth ears have brown, crumbly "gunk" in the crevices. If not remedied, mites will continue to infect the ear and head. The cat constantly scratches and may cause scabbing or loss of hair. Left too long, the mites can cause inner infection which could lead to cerebral damage.

Home treatment includes swabbing the area with alcohol or hydrogen peroxide. Mites propagate rapidly so the treatment should be continued over time to break the lifecycle, just as in the treatment of fleas. A veterinarian will have the proper instruments and solutions to deal with the problem most efficiently. When treating a cat with mites, don't forget the head and tail; cats often sleep with their tails curled up around their face, and the mites may jump up for a ride. Dab a little alcohol to the tail as well.

THE HAPPY GARDENER

Tips For The Winter Gardener

*After the ground freezes, you'll want to cut back your chrysanthemums to ground level, and cover them with mulch. Hardy mums will survive winter, and new shoots will start to appear come spring. When the shoots grow to six inches, you can dig, divide and transplant them.

*Wintered annuals need to be pulled up for compost, and perennials should have tops cut to ground level by now. Phlox, hosta, peony and asters will winter over and send up shoots come spring.

*You'll want your lawn to be as short as possible over the winter months to prevent diseases such as snow mold. A final cutting now can't hurt. Set the blade at one and one-half inch lower, and don't worry about a few leaves remaining. They'll be cut by the mower and remain as light mulch. If you have lots of leaves, however, rake before mowing.

*If you turn the thermostat down at this time of year, some plants may not make it through the cold winter nights. Common and sturdy houseplants such as begonias and philodendrons have tropical origins and like it cozy than the 60°F to 65°F degrees many people set their home thermostats to. Some plants which do like it cooler, however, will thrive in these conditions. Most succulents, used to cool desert nights, do very well in such an environment. Geranium and jade plants are also known to thrive through cooler nights. Cactus and ferns are others. If you have plants which seem to suffer when the indoor temperature drops, try moving them to the coolest spot you can find in your house, and increase their waterings to make up for higher temperatures. If that doesn't help, you might have to donate those specimens to friends who keep their homes warmer.

TRAVEL DESTINATIONS

*For the devil in every one, it's paradise for you to take a long weekend vacation on the French Riviera (Cannes), call in sick and let Alr France whisk you from New York on a Thursday for a four-night stay for only $779! Also included in your fee are continental breakfast daily and a dinner show, as well as your accommodations, of course. Contact the Winter Special Desk at Alr France at 800-237-2747 for more information. You're sure to come back a whole new person!

*If you're planning a trip abroad soon, rest assured you won't have to sit down to a seven-course meal every time you pick up a fork. It seems many enterprising Americans are opening up Californian and Southwestern-style eateries everywhere over there. And for those who miss their local Mrs. Fields shop, chocolate-chip cookies are becoming a common sight in Paris. You should also be able to find, with relative ease, milk shakes and pizza pie!

EASTON

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 64'-0" x 38'-0"
LIVING: 3040 square feet
GARAGE: 780 square feet
COVERAGE: 2137 square feet

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

By Landmark Designs

The Easton represents the best of Southeastern tradition. The full brick exterior, symmetrical shuttered windows, and central front gable give the home a feeling of solidity and Colonial charm.

The entryway is quite formal, with stairs coming down to a small foyer between formal living and dining rooms. The front hall leads to a relaxed family room with fireplace and rear deck access.

The kitchen is conveniently placed between the dining room and breakfast nook. Casual meals can be served directly into the nook across a short-eating bar. Pantry, storage closet, and utility room are nearby. A half-bath lies at the center of the ground floor, close to all working areas of the house.

The sleeping quarters are all upstairs, three bedrooms and a master suite. The master contains a private bath and Jacuzzi (one exception to the traditional theme). The rest of the bedrooms are served by the main bath in the upper hall.

Gabled garage roofs almost beg to be converted into living space. Sherill Troutman, Jr., the designer of the Easton, has anticipated that demand by drawing in a bonus room above the garage. The bonus room is very private, since it adjoins no other living space. At the same time, it is readily accessible via either the garage stairs or upper hall. It can become a rental unit, office, exercise room, or any other environment its owner can imagine.

For a study plan of the Easton (288-11), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

HOUSE HUNTING? Find just the home you're looking for in Lakeland.

THAT'S WHY IT'S CALLED CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING...

Every week, we have a special spot in our newspaper that's exactly right for that item you want to sell. If you tell us to run an ad for a car you no longer need, we place it in our CARS FOR SALE classification (No. 80). Want to buy or sell a horse? Your ad goes in classification No. 42.

Why do we do it this way? Because it's easier for our readers (your customers) to find your ad. No long search, no missing your sailboat ad because it's mixed in with rummage sales.

The next time you want to turn a no-longer needed item into cash, give this paper a try. You'll be in the right place.

Pie in the apple

An attractive, healthy and very tasty variation for extra Thanksgiving pie.

- 4 large, tart apples
- 4 heaping Tbs. mincemeat or pumpkin pie, crust included
- 2 Tbs. unsalted butter
- 1/4 cup honey
- 3/4 cup Madeira wine
- Heavy cream (optional)

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Core apples to 1/2 inch of bottom. With paring knife, make top of hole a bit wider. Fill each apple with 1 heaping Tbs. of pie filling. Place apples in a small, shallow baking dish. Dot with butter and drizzle honey over apples. Heat Madeira wine in small saucepan and pour around bottom of apples. Bake for 30 minutes, basting frequently.

Serve apples immediately in small, shallow bowls. Pass the heavy cream, if desired.

Serves 4.

Apple slices

CRUST

- 2 cups flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2/3 cup lard
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 Tbs. lemon juice
- 1/4 cup water

Sift together flour and salt, cut in lard, then add 2 egg yolks and lemon juice. Add water 1 Tbs. at a time while working dough. Divide dough in half. Roll into two rectangles and place one-half of crust in bottom of floured 9 x 13 inch pan.

FILLING

- 10 apples (Jonathan or Macintosh) peeled, cored and sliced
- 1 cup of sugar
- 2 Tbs. of flour
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- butter

Spread apples in bottom of pan and sprinkle with flour, cinnamon and sugar mixture. Dot with butter and top with the other half of dough. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. While apple slices are baking, mix 2 Tbs. of melted butter with 1 cup of powdered sugar and spread on top crust while still warm.
